Britain Is Agreed to French Demand

SINGLE WORD NEARLY FATAL TO AGREEMENT

"Consult" Stood in the Way; England Accepts Another

London, Nov. 21.—(By The Associated Press)—The British government's final instructions to Lord Crewe ambassador at Paris, were forwarded to Paris early today. Foreign officials express the hope that definite and permanent beneficial results for the entente and for the entente's relations with Germany would be achieved by the meeting of the council of ambassadors this afternoon.

The French willingness to meet the British half way on the terms of the allied note to Germany is said here to have been the salvation of the situation.

HINGED ON ONE WORD
Paris, Nov. 21.—(By The Associated Press)—Lord Crewe, British ambassador received instructions from London this morning regarding the note the allies are to send to Germany. It was then announced that the council of ambassadors would meet this afternoon.

One little word—"consult"—is what has been delaying final action by the council on the note, it appears. The decision reached Monday was that the note would set forth the allied demand that the military clauses of the peace treaty be complied with and that Germany failed to satisfy the demand the allies would "consult" as to the action the situation called for.

Objections to that word were raised in the French cabinet meeting Monday. It was declared that the necessity thus imposed on France to "consult" her allies every time action was required was just what Germany was relying on.

Lord Crewe, British ambassador, then suggested another word to his government. It is understood the British accepted the modification which amounts to tacit acceptance of the French reservation of the right to act separately if Germany's attitude should make it necessary.

DR. THOMPSON IS GIVEN CHAIR ON HOSPITAL STAFF

Is Eye Surgeon for Illinois Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Dr. Willard Thompson, Dixon eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, has been honored by an appointment to a chair in the Illinois Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary in Chicago. Dr. Thompson took the examination for this important post last May and was accepted and has just received his appointment as surgeon in the eye division.

The Illinois Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary is a free clinic conducted by the state of Illinois. Hundreds of patients are treated and operated on daily at this hospital, where they receive free the services of the best surgeons in the state. The best known eye and ear surgeons in Chicago are on the staff and there is only one other surgeon on the staff besides Dr. Thompson from down state. The clinic performs all branches of eye, ear, nose and throat work.

The Dixon physician will devote two days a week, Monday and Wednesday, to his work in the Chicago clinic, but will be in his office in Dixon the other days of the week. The award to Dr. Thompson of a chair in this state hospital is a fine recognition of his ability.

All Men Talkers; All Are Also Dull, Says Chicago Co-eds

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Nov. 21.—University of Chicago co-eds, meeting to discuss men, dances, parties and proper introductions, said that all men are talkers, some of them serious and dull some of them frothy and dull and others trivial and dull.

A movie with the right man is more desirable than grand opera with a "sap" said the girls, who expressed themselves in favor of three dates a week, preferably theater dates. Two shows were regarded as equal to one theater and supper date.

SHORT COURSE IN DAIRYING PLANNED AMBOY H. SCHOOL

The agricultural department of the Amboy township high school has been planning a short course in dairying from Dec. 3 to 15. Farmers and their wives and more especially the young men who are not in the high school will be invited to participate in this special course. No charge will be made and a special instructor has been secured for the two weeks, the expense being defrayed by the national, state and local departments.

Mr. Lovett of the University of Illinois college of agriculture has been secured to conduct the special short course. He is thoroughly familiar with every angle of dairying, being the owner and proprietor of a large dairy farm in Marshall, Ill. He has been brought up in dairying, graduated in dairy husbandry at the University of Illinois, studied dairying abroad, visiting Holland, England, Scotland, Guernsey and Jersey islands and other points of international dairy interest. He has had charge of cattle testing associations and for the past two years has headed this department in this state. He is a judge of dairy cattle and is thoroughly qualified to conduct the course.

Meet Every Afternoon
The short hours which have been chosen should make it possible for all farmers who so desire to attend. The course will be conducted in the high school gymnasium and 1:30 to 3:30 each afternoon. It is expected that from 75 to 100 will avail themselves of this exceptional opportunity. The program of subjects will be very liberal. On the opening afternoon, Mr. Lovett will discuss the advantages of dairy farming as a general proposition. Announcements of special parts of the course will also be made on that day. Through the remainder of the week the following subjects will be dealt with:

Dairying Abroad.
Special Dairy Sections and Communities.
Breeds and Breeding.
Bull clubs.
Community Sales.
Fundamentals of a good dairy animal.
Judging cattle.
Chalk talk on the worth of a cow according to her performance.
Other minor subjects will no doubt be suggested by those attending the course which will be welcomed and taken up for discussion.

During the second week, Dec. 10 to 15, the subjects will include the following:

Feeds and feeding practices.

Tuesday was "Home Night" at St. Paul's, when several pastors of Lutheran churches in this part of the state took part in the jubilee services and recounted the historic and personal associations of the past and future.

The first speaker was Rev. D. P. Heitzel of Nachusa, who lived in Dixon twenty years ago and served the Zion and St. James congregations. Using local conditions as an illustration, he said that conservation of Christian forces is needed today, for if the world is to set right, it will be by the church of Jesus Christ.

Rev. P. H. Stahl, Superintendent of the Nachusa Home, was introduced with a reference to his serving as pastor of the local church in the absence of Rev. Walter, to which he responded showing his deep interest in the congregation at Dixon. Then he expressed his gratitude for their helpfulness to the Home, and said that the relations between them began twenty years ago. He mentioned Dr. A. L. Miller, who was treasurer of the Orphanage for some time preceding his death.

In the audience was one of St. Paul's members, Mrs. Sophie Wuehl, who has been a valuable worker in the Nachusa Home for the last seven years. She received a surprise when Rev. Stahl spoke of her as one of the kindnesses received from the Dixon church.

One of "Big Three"
Rev. G. P. Kabele is president of the Northern Conference and pastor of Trinity Lutheran church at Morris. St. Paul's is the third largest congregation in the conference, Rockford and Sterling being those which are stronger. These are known among the other churches as the "big three." Rev. Kabele spoke the greetings of the conference, and said that St. Paul's at seventy-five years, is not decrepit but is renewing its youth.

Mr. Morris was the home of Nicholas Stroh, the pioneer Lutheran missionary in Northern Illinois, and the Diamond Jubilee of his coming was celebrated about three years ago. The church did not have definite organization there until 1853.

Merchants to Give Holiday Trade Impetus With Countless Bargains

Next Saturday, November 24, is Pre-Holiday Sale in the stores of Dixon and all the merchants of this city are co-operating to make the day a successful bargain festival and to extend Dixon's ever widening circle of friends.

This issue of The Evening Telegraph is also a pre-holiday number and is full of early Christmas shopping suggestions which will be heeded by the wise and careful shopper.

Today's Pre-Holiday edition goes into ten thousand homes in the vicinity of Dixon and on Saturday this city will be the mecca for shoppers from everywhere within thirty or forty miles from Dixon.

The bargain specials announced in this issue by the merchants of Dixon will be found to be of a great saving value to the buyer. The Christmas suggestions offered in the following pages are also worthy of your careful study.

Start your Christmas shopping SATURDAY IN DIXON. You will have the advantage of the procrastinating shopper inasmuch as you will have the pick of a great and fresh stock of goods and the added inducement of bargain prices.

Woman on Hunger Strike for Freedom Threatens to Kill Self if Released

Freeport Officials Are Worried Over Woman in Their Jail.

Freeport, Nov. 20.—Stephenson county officials today were worried over what to do with Mrs. Bertha Barsch, age 53, who is on a hunger strike in the county jail to obtain liberty and also threatens to destroy herself if released.

Mrs. Barsch and seven children were deserted last summer by her husband. Early last week the seven children were declared dependents in county court and ordered sent to an orphanage. When the sheriff went to get the children Mrs. Barsch produced a razor and threatened to cut her throat if the children were taken away.

Fearing that the mother would carry out her threat the sheriff took her to the county jail for investigation. Friday she declared a hunger strike but on Saturday asked for food, explaining that the Holy Ghost had told her to eat. Yesterday she again refused to eat and today said she would not eat again until she was released.

County authorities are afraid to release her and also are worried over possible developments in the hunger strike owing to her nervous condition.

Try to Link Death of Lawyer with Big Warner Bros. Theft

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Nov. 21.—A theory that there is a connection between the $1,000,000 bond and jewelry robber of the Werner Brothers warehouse and the death of Attorney H. L. Hauschild from a gun shot wound he said was accidental, is being developed by detectives today.

Los Angeles police have been asked to hunt for Charles Dean, alias Browne, said to be the step-father of a screen actress, who will be questioned. Dean formerly lived in Chicago, and, according to police, was an associate of Hauschild and also under the name of Browne held in bonds of $75,000 on charges of burglary and conspiracy in connection with the robbery.

Funeral Franklin Grove Woman Will Be Held Tomorrow

(Telegraph Special Service.)
Franklin Grove, Nov. 21.—The funeral of Mrs. John Reinhart, for many years a resident south of this place, who died Tuesday morning at the Rockville hospital after a long illness, will be held at her home at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, with burial in the Franklin Grove cemetery. Obituary will be published later.

Maiden Trip Over Military Airway

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Belleville, Ill., Nov. 12.—Lieutenants D. V. Gaffney and H. K. Ramey, hopped off today from Scott Field, near here, in De Havilland airplanes for their respective stations, Kelly Field, Texas and Bolling Field, Washington, D. C., after completing late yesterday the maiden trip over the new military airway—San Antonio-St. Louis-Washington.

SPONGE CROWD IN TWO RAIDS TUESDAY NEAR CITY LIMITS

Two Alleged Bootleggers and Much Evidence Reported Found.

Following the disposition of five cases in the county court last week for violations of the prohibition laws, Sheriff E. C. Raley, Chief J. D. Van Bibber and several deputies started out late Tuesday afternoon and brought in two more violators following raids. The sponge squad first visited the residence of John Zinke in South Dixon township, just south of the city limits, which has been the source of much complaint for weeks past.

As the raiding party entered the yard, the officers say, Mrs. Zinke hurried out on the back porch and seizing a quart bottle which was partly filled with liquor, hurled it against a heavy iron wheel, destroying this piece of evidence. In a yard just north of a pig sty the officers report they found several gallons of moonshine, hooch, "Dago red" and diluted alcohol, together with a large stock of empty flasks. John Zinke was arrested at a barn nearby which he was assisting to construct, and when two officers went to this place they found another bottle and glass. Zinke was taken to the county jail where he spent the night.

The home of Mrs. Ella Reese on the Dayville road near the cement plant was the next objective. Here the raiding party say they were successful in securing a quantity of liquor. This is the second alleged violation for Mrs. Reese and she was taken to the county jail and locked up. This place has been the source of considerable complaint for many weeks past it is reported.

Anonymous letters are received by the sheriff, state's attorney and chief of police almost daily registering complaints against alleged violators of the prohibition laws. A short time ago Sheriff E. C. Raley announced that he would open a campaign against violators and that this would be carried out and the law enforced not only in the vicinity of Dixon but throughout Lee county.

North Side Garage Scene of a Blaze

The garage of Ernest Youngmark on West Everett street, was the scene of a fire last night about 11 o'clock and the prompt arrival and work of the fire department prevented the garage and small frame houses adjoining from destruction. A blaze was discovered in the rear of the garage by a motorist who was driving past about 11 o'clock and he stopped and aroused the proprietor who lives in a small house adjoining. An alarm was turned in and the firemen extinguished the blaze with chemicals. Deputy State Fire Marshal Keran recently ordered extensive changes in the garage, and the origin of the blaze is not known.

Say N. Y. Theaters Boosted Prices for Army-Navy Crowd

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Nov. 21.—So much indignation has been expressed by Army and Navy officials over the increase of admission prices by Broadway theaters Saturday night, the day on which the Army and Navy meet at football, that in some quarters it is believed the game will not be played here again.

Elks Annual Fair Starts Saturday Eve

The nineteenth annual Elks' bazaar will open at Kosbrook's hall on Saturday evening of this week to continue through the following week. The committee in charge of the fair this year plan to make it the largest in the history of almost a score of seasons of bazaar. Dancing will be a feature of the bazaar as in past years with the poultry booth another outstanding attraction.

Help! Help! Feet of Modern Girl Are Getting Much Bigger

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Columbus, Nov. 21.—Feet of the modern college girl are increasing in size, according to Miss Lydia Clark, head of the women's department of physical education at Ohio State University. She claims modern clothes and the great interest shown in outdoor activities are causes for the increase.

LAST HOME GAME FOR LEGION TEAM ON COMING SUNDAY

Rochelle Aggregation to Play Second Game at Brown Field.

Football fans will be given the last opportunity of seeing the Dixon American Legion team in action at home on next Sunday afternoon when they will again oppose the Rochelle 40-3 aggregation. While this is not the final contest, it will ring down the curtain on the Legion schedule for home games this year. One more game is to be played after Sunday, that being with Clinton at Clinton on Thanksgiving day.

Manager Carpenter of the Rochelle team yesterday informed Manager Dixon that George Moore would doubtless be out of the game Sunday, having broken a bone in his hand in last Sunday's game. The Rochelle manager also objected to the same officials working in next Sunday's game, as presided two weeks ago when Rochelle played here. Both managers agreed on Frank "Stuo" Hogan of South Bend, Ind., who presided last Sunday and he has been invited to referee the game. Captain "Butch" Whipple of Elgin, who sustained a fractured collar bone in Sunday's game here will probably be one of the officials in the final home game of the season.

The Legion team this year has enjoyed a very successful season. They have won six out of nine games played and have scored 75 points to their opponents' 17. The season has seen more crippled men in the bench than in the past two years but the injuries have been of a minor nature and none of the men were seriously injured. All of the men are in good shape and Dixon should be able to put a strong line-up against Rochelle Sunday without using any substitutions.

Presbyterians to Meet in Jacksonville

A committee of the Illinois Presbyterian synod met in Jacksonville, Nov. 13, to plan for the meeting of synod, Woman's Synodical Society of Missions and the annual state-wide conference of Presbyterians to be held in Jacksonville, Ill., June 16-20, 1924. The committee mapped out an unusually strong program in which men and women of outstanding national leadership will appear. It also conferred with local Presbyterians concerning the entertainment of conference. Between 1100 and 1200 people attended the conference last year at Monmouth, Ill.

Among those present at the committee meeting were the Rev. J. B. Jones, moderator of synod, Dr. C. Harmon Johnson, stated clerk of synod, Dr. Henry S. Brown, executive secretary, Chicago Presbytery; Mrs. Grant Stroh, president of the Woman's Synodical Society; Mrs. B. H. Pinnell, former president of the Woman's Synodical; President C. H. Hammelkamp, of Illinois College; the Rev. Paul A. Peterson, Monmouth; the Rev. J. B. Farrell, Centralia; Dr. Walter R. Creemans, Springfield; Dr. A. S. Clarke, chairman of synod's committee on Christian Education; Professor Rule of Illinois College; Dr. J. N. Elliott, Rev. S. P. Taylor, Mr. C. E. Schenck and the local pastors, the Rev. Spoones, Smith and Marbach of Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith returned home yesterday afternoon from Peoria where they visited relatives for a few days.

Deputy Game Warden F. A. Schoenholtz went to Springfield this morning on business.

SCHOOL, TWO COTTAGES AND HEATING PLANT

$75,000 Expenditure is Voted by Directors at Meeting

Definite plans for extensive additions and improvements at the Lutheran Orphanage at Nachusa were made at a meeting of the directors of that institution, which was held at the orphanage yesterday, and which was attended by all of the directors with one exception.

The outlook for the institution was proclaimed as being especially bright, and after the transaction of routine business and the submission of reports which were highly pleasing to the directors, the subject of increased facilities were taken up.

After some discussion, in which it was urged the need and the advisability of enlarging a committee of four directors was appointed, to meet in January, at which time definite plans will be worked out for raising $75,000 and expending it in sought-for additions and alterations. This committee is composed of Rev. J. S. Leamer of Clinton, Ia., Rev. C. E. Paulus of Chicago, Miss Elizabeth Prasse of Lena and Rev. P. H. Stahl, Superintendent of the Orphanage.

The plans of the directors are for the erection of two new cottages, a central heating plant and a school building and the repairing and remodeling of the present buildings.

SEARCHED HERE FOR SUSPECTED FREEPORT THUGS

Hold Up Negroes Reported Seen in Dixon First of Week.

Deputy Sheriff M. L. Wood from Freeport, Stephenson county, arrived in Dixon late yesterday afternoon and spent several hours here conducting an investigation. On last Saturday evening, three negroes, one of whom is known by the Stephenson county authorities and the Freeport police, entered the home of L. A. Sanders, also colored, and held up the family at the point of guns. The intruders took about $25 in money and left.

While no notice of the bold robbery was received here, the Stephenson county authorities were notified yesterday that the three negroes were seen here on Sunday and Monday. They were last seen in the vicinity of the Illinois Central depot. The deputy came to Dixon yesterday and tried to locate the trio but without success. During his visit here he told Chief Van Bibber that there had been several small robberies in Freeport and vicinity and that home talent was suspected in most of the cases and for this reason no report was sent out to surrounding towns. No trace of the trio could be found here.

Incomes Business Men and Mechanics Under Investigation

Collector Martin J. Gannon of the internal revenue department announced this morning that a drive was in progress to ascertain the incomes of business, and professional men and mechanics in this district. The drive which was started the first of this month will continue until the first of February.

Business and professional men and mechanics who have failed to file schedules for the years 1920-21 and 22 will be called upon to do so as soon as possible for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not they are subject to pay an income tax. The collector stated that business or professional men or mechanics who were receiving a gross income of $5,000 or more would be asked to file a return.

Mr. Prescott, has been the most popular one that has been shown here for many a day." This was her first exclamation. "It is going to be here for still another week and I do hope you are going to be able to see it. I have been four times, and I saw your husband there all alone the other evening. Did he say anything to you about it?"

"Not a word, but my friend, Ruth Ellington, who has just arrived from New York, wrote me while she was there that she had seen the picture and it was extremely interesting."

"Did she tell you anything about it?"

"No, she said it was too long a story to write when she was so busy and that she would tell me about it when she got home."

"One reason I think the picture has caught on to such an extent here is because the Perier girl, who plays the principal part, and who is said to have helped the authoress in the writing of the play, used to live here. Every man in town I think knew her. She was a model, you know, and called very beautiful. I never could see very much in her, but my husband seemed to think she was about the prettiest girl he ever saw. I must say she shows up well in pictures."

"By the way, I think your husband knew her. Have you ever asked him about her?"

"My husband told me once, Mrs. Smithson, that the young lady had been a model for him in some of his advertising illustrations, but I was not curious at all. I expect if you saw him there alone it was because he had gone to see if she had changed. I know he would be very glad to find that she was making a success in her new profession."

"Very likely."

"Because those words are written on paper, little Marquise, you will never know how nasty they sounded from that odious woman's lips."

NEXT CONFLICT TO DEPEND ON OUR RESERVES

Chief of Ordnance in Annual Report to War Department.

Washington.—The next major war "will be won or lost on the sufficiency of munitions reserves," Major General Clarence C. Williams, chief of Army Ordnance, predicted in his annual report made public today at the War Department.

"I wish to emphasize the preponderating importance of adequate emergency reserves," General Williams said, adding that in view of the isolated position, highly developed specialties of the United States it seemed "fairly certain that no power or combination of powers now in existence" could successfully invade the country after American man power and industry had been fully mobilized.

"The possible rate of mobilization will always be determined by the state of our reserves," the report said, "since man power can be mobilized much more rapidly than industry. From this point of view, taking into account the present economic development of the world, it may be said that the next major war will be won or lost on the sufficiency of munitions reserve."

The war left the country with a large stock of reserves on hand, General Williams continued, but with the passage of time the value of these is decreasing "due to development of improved and more powerful types."

There is also, he added, a deterioration in stocks of ammunition which "is very much more pressing" than the question of obsolescence of material.

The report said that lack of funds during the last two years has prevented completion of the artillery development program worked out at the close of the war and that it has been possible "to cover reasonably well" in a contracted program only the gun equipment for infantry, divisional batteries and small caliber anti-aircraft weapons together with one type of tank. Even the contraction program cannot proceed "to an effective degree" during the coming year under budget limitations, the report added.

"The Department has now been working on the program for four years and can see no hopes of developing for the service and getting certain designs under the limited program ready for reduction without substantial increase in the funds available," said General Williams. He added that work which could be one in one year by his department now required three years time to complete.

Americans Know Little of Europe

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 21.—Europe profits by American educational experiments yet Americans know nothing of what is being done along the line of educational endeavor in Europe, Carleton W. Washburne, superintendent of schools, Winnetka, Ill., told delegates to the conference of the State School Board association here today. Mr. Washburne recently returned from a three-months European tour spent in studying experimental schools and ascertaining progressive tendencies of European education.

"Europe is educationally alive," Mr. Washburne said. "It is true that in the countries where there is high centralization of control the number of educational experiments is limited; it is true that the rank and file of teachers, while better trained than the majority of American teachers, are much less cognizant of the existence or desirability of intelligence or achievement tests; it is true that few universities in Europe have anything corresponding to our departments of education; it is true that with one or two exceptions in England, one finds no bureaus of educational research in the cities of Europe."

"In spite of these lacks," he continued, "there are a number of lines of educational endeavor of importance and interest to any serious student of education."

"I found during my study of educational tendencies in England, that the most widespread and definite educational trend in that country is toward individual instruction."

"Individual instruction conduces to freedom everywhere. The tendency to give children more freedom in school is widespread among all experimental schools in Europe, although not universal."

U. S. Cavalry Has Shown Improvement

Washington, Nov. 20.—Readiness for active service and morale among American cavalry regiments has shown distinct improvement "due to the very devoted efforts of the officers and non-commissioned officers," Major Willard Holbrook, chief of cavalry, declared in his annual report made public today. General

Holbrook added, however, the regrettable observation "that there has been marked deterioration of cavalry mounts due to the advancing age of troop horses and lack of necessary remounts."

The morale of the cavalry "can be characterized, without qualification, as high," General Holbrook said. There was conspicuous esprit during the year in the first cavalry division posted on the border which had attracted attention of the Inspector General, he said. The Inspector General also noted "visible improvement during the year in all border cavalry."

General Holbrook said the work of the cavalry division had already proved this to be an excellent training school for officers and demonstrated that the division occupied "a conspicuous place in our scheme of preparedness."

Among recommendations to the Secretary of War, General Holbrook included one urging the purchase of sufficient cavalry remounts "to replace the shortage which will exist July 1, 1924."

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Dixon people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor! Could you ask for stronger proof of merit?

Mrs. Leland Pontius, 609 S. Crawford St., Dixon, says: "I was suffering from kidney trouble and I fairly screamed with pains across my back and kidneys. I couldn't turn in bed and I had cold sweats. My kidneys were in a terrible condition. Our family doctor said I would have to be operated upon as I had passed gravel stones and he said the others would have to be removed. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and removed the trouble."

Are You Using this Free Service?

It comes with every sack of cement. It has been made possible through the Portland Cement Association by the eighty-six cement manufacturers who are its members.

They realized that important research and educational work was necessary to give people the best information on how to use cement. They also realized that this could be done better by unified effort than by any individual company alone.

As a result, you may have for the asking the benefit of this Association's long and exhaustive studies on how best to use cement for the most satisfactory results in concrete construction.

Whatever use you plan to make of cement—whether you are building a concrete hog house or concrete dairy barn, a stretch of concrete walk or a concrete road, a silo or a skyscraper, a home, workshop or a factory—you needn't guess. You can know.

If you want information about the usefulness of concrete under certain conditions, how to mix or place it to get the greatest value out of every sack of cement—you can get it by writing any one of our 28 offices listed below.

Supplying dependable information without charge by booklet, by letter or by personal conference when necessary, is the work of this Association. Millions of helpful booklets, covering a multitude of uses of concrete, are distributed annually to people who know they needn't guess—who know they can get the facts from us.

One of our new booklets, "Concrete in Home Sanitation," will surprise you with the number of easy ways in which concrete can be used to make the home healthier and happier. Address our nearest district office for your free copy.

WHEN YOU ARE OLD!
When you are old and gray and full of sleep
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once; and of their shadows deep;
How many loved your moments of glad grace,
And loved your beauty with love false or true,
But one man loved the pilgrim soul in you,
And loved the sorrows of your changing face.

And bending down beside the glowing bars,
Murmur a little sadly, how love fled
And paced upon the mountains overhead,
And hid his face amid a crowd of stars.
—William Butler Yeats

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—

Spoiling Fruit.
Any fresh fruit that has become soft should be cooked at once with a little sugar added, and it may be used as a sauce for puddings or it can be made into jelly.

Cider Vinegar.
Make your own vinegar by keeping your cider until it turns to vinegar, or adding the cider to vinegar you already have.

Many Kinds of Bread.
Remember that there are many different kinds of bread by which you can vary the monotony of your meals. Include bran, rice, whole wheat and brown bread as well as the plain white variety.

Vegetable Stock.
Save the water in which your vegetables are boiled and use it as the basis of your soups. This is the practice of the French cooks who make the most delicious soups known.

Raisin Bread.
A cup of raisins to a loaf, or a cup of dates pitted and quartered, are an improvement to brown bread.

Cold Rice.
Cold rice, if it has been properly cooked so that the grains are separated, is a good addition to vegetable salad as it combines nicely with celery, tomatoes, string beans and tart apples. It is also very delicious in chicken salad.

GIRL SCOUTS TO MEET THURSDAY.
The Girl Scouts will meet at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Scouts are requested not to forget their rubber soled shoes.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS TO MEET THURSDAY EVENING.
The regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors will be held Thursday evening in Union Hall.

W. C. T. U. Held Monthly Meeting

The Willard W. C. T. U. monthly meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Abbie Pitcher Friday afternoon. Meeting opened with song and devotionals was conducted by Mrs. Emma Geisler. During the business session it was decided to send for state reports. A pleasing vocal number was rendered by Mrs. Tabor, "Life's Lullaby," and an encore, "The Roses." Mrs. Henry Leydig read a paper on "The Citizen's Duty." Mesdames Missman, Maben, Strock and Miss Callie Morgan, gave reports of the state convention, held in Freeport.

Among the many good speeches quoted at the convention, an extract from that of Mrs. Elizabeth Perkins, Child Welfare Superintendent, is worthy of notice: "When the 18th Amendment was placed in the constitution, more was done for child life than will ever be done. The 18th Amendment is written on the hearts of the people, keep it ever before you, it calls you to no easy task."

Miss Anna Gordon, World's and National President, W. C. T. U., gave an outline of the needs of the organization. The membership is 16,616. The W. C. T. U. enters her 50th year, Nov. 15, 1924. The jubilee convention to be held in Chicago. Miss Gordon spoke hopefully of the ultimate winning of the world to prohibition: "The 68th Congress will be the dryest congress ever elected. If the U. S. continues to be the only dry country, it will soon have economic supremacy over all the countries of the world, and it is recognition of this fact that is bringing England and other nations to consider abolishing the legalized liquor traffic."

South Dixon Community Club Meeting

The members of the South Dixon Community club met at the home of Mrs. Roy Fisher last Wednesday afternoon.

Because of the inclemency of the weather to attend but those present enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon. The meeting was called to order and all joined in singing, "America." After roll call two papers were read, one by Mrs. Amy Wolfman, "How and When to Give," and the other, "Problems and Troubles of Hired Help," by Mrs. Mathias Lievan.

Plans were discussed by which the club could help some less fortunate than themselves, and some more work along these lines will soon be started. One way in which they will secure funds to carry on this work will be a food sale to be held in the near future.

At the close of the delightful meeting very tempting refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Walter Ortleson and Mrs. Alfred Tourtellot.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Travis on the Peoria Road, Thursday, Dec. 6.

Entertained for Mr. and Mrs. H. Swarts

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Busby entertained with a chicken dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harley L. Swarts, who have recently returned from their honeymoon trip in the south. During dinner, Mr. Swarts surprised the guests by announcing they had bought and furnished a beautiful new Kellastone bungalow, 1189 Highland Ave., Oak Park, where they are at home to their friends. Out-of-town guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Harley L. Swarts, Oak Park; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kelley, Sterling; Mrs. Bert Swarts, and son Keith, Palmyra, and Mrs. Lucy C. Rosbrook, Dixon. Mrs. Swarts, nee Frances Busby, is spending a few days with her parents.

SECTION NO. 6 OF THE M. E. AID SOCIETY TO MEET

Section No. 6 of the M. E. Aid society will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. H. Leake, 521 North Jefferson avenue. A good attendance is desired.

DINNER AND BAZAAR AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Candelights Aid society of the Presbyterian church will serve a chicken dinner Saturday, Nov. 24th, at the church from 5 to 7 o'clock. They will also hold a bazaar starting at 2 o'clock.

MYSTIC WORKERS TO MEET FRIDAY EVENING

The Mystic Workers will meet Friday evening in Union hall. It is hoped a large number of the members will be present as a banquet has been offered to the lodge having the largest number of members present during November. At the last meeting over one hundred members were present.

DIAGONAL LINE

The newest of frocks show a certain diagonal line from throat to waist that is very smart and very French.

This line is sometimes accentuated by a reverse or by braid binding. It is a line especially adopted, of course, to tailored frocks of will, charmeen, or a similar fabric.

The model sketched has clever new cuffs and an attractive collar of material just a shade lighter than that of the dress. Silk braid is used for binding and for the belt.

BY SISTER MARY SANDWICHES.

The sandwich that makes a meal is ideal to serve at noon luncheon or in the evening after cards.

The luncheon sandwich, not being a company affair, is often made of left-overs. No two sandwiches need to be alike as to filling for as they are individual servings one does not interfere with the other. They can be served open or closed in true sandwich fashion.

The evening sandwich with a cup of coffee, chocolate or any beverage preferred is easy and quick to prepare and serve and is far more popular with men than tiny "tea" sandwiches, salads or too much sweet stuff.

Ham Sandwich.

One slice ham cut 1/4 inch thick, canned sliced pineapple, sifted cracker crumbs, head lettuce, toast.

Broil ham under a gas flame or over a coal or electric fire. Drain pineapple from juice and dip in cracker crumbs. Sauté a delicate brown in butter or drop in deep hot fat. Put a leaf of crisp chilled head lettuce on a triangle of fresh buttered toast, add a piece of ham, cover with pineapple and another leaf of lettuce and top with a covering of toast.

Mixed Lamb and Orange Sandwich.

Left-over lamb roast or chops, oranges, fresh mint, cracker crumbs, egg, toast.
Trim fat from lamb and mince. To every cup of lamb add one tablespoon minced mint leaves. Put in top of double boiler over hot water and heat. Add one tablespoon grated orange rind to one-half cup fine cracker crumbs. Peel oranges and cut in slices one-half inch thick. Beat egg slightly with two tablespoons cold water. Dip slices of orange into crumbs, then in egg and again in crumbs and sauté to a delicate brown in butter. Put a layer of hot minced lamb on a triangle of hot buttered toast, add slices of orange to cover, cover with a layer of meat and top with toast.

Toasted Sardine Sandwiches.

Remove skins and bones from sardines. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Put between thin slices of bread and butter. Toast in a hot oven or under the broiler.

Hot Cheese Sandwich.

One-half pound American full cream cheese, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon mustard, paprika, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup milk.

Melt cheese over hot water. Stir in butter and eggs slightly beaten. Cook, stirring constantly until smooth. Add milk and cook a few minutes longer. Serve as an open sandwich on small triangles of toast.

Tea-Room Sandwich.

One cream cheese, 2 tablespoons cream, 2 tablespoons minced olives, 2 tablespoons minced pimientos, 2 tablespoons chopped nuts, head lettuce, mayonnaise, whole wheat bread.

Work cheese smooth with cream. Add olives, pimientos and nuts and enough mayonnaise to make quite moist. Wash and chill lettuce. Spread bread lightly and evenly with butter, cover each slice with a leaf of lettuce, add a layer of the filling and top with a slice of buttered bread.

Chopped Egg Sandwich.

Three hard boiled eggs, lettuce, mayonnaise, bread and butter.
Shell eggs and chop whites and yolks. Mix with mayonnaise to make very moist, almost one cup of mayonnaise can be used. Either leaf or head lettuce can be used. Cut lettuce in shreds and then cut the ribbons in short lengths. Add to the mayonnaise mixture, using about two cups lettuce to one cup mayonnaise. Put between thin slices of bread and butter.

Creamed Rice Sandwich.

One cup cooked rice (hot), 1/4 lb. cheese, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, anchovy paste, hot buttered toast.
Melt butter, stir in flour and when well blended stir in milk. Season with salt and paprika and cook, stirring constantly until smooth. Add cheese finely chopped and cook until cheese is melted. Spread toast with anchovy paste, add a thin layer of rice, pour over cheese sauce to make moist and cover with a second piece of toast lightly spread with the anchovy paste.

A good blotter paste can be substituted for the anchovy if desired. (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

Y. W. M. S. Held Pleasant Meeting

The Young Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church held its regular monthly meeting at the church on Friday evening, Nov. 16th.

There was a very large attendance. The lesson for the evening was in charge of Dorothy Atkins and Mildred Kinsey, and proved to be very successful.

There was a short business meeting. It was voted upon and approved to have a Missionary lecture in the church Tuesday evening, Nov. 27th, and each member is requested to be present at this meeting, bring friends with them.

The secretary's report, the treasurer's report and roll call were given. Each member responded to roll call with a verse of Scripture.

The society members then presented to their president, Mrs. Marie R. Wilson, a lovely fur bowl, as she was but recently married. She then responded with a few gracious words of thanks.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Misses Emma Ankeny and Martha Hucker.

Mrs. Brookner Entertained for Mrs. Curran

Mrs. Ethel Brookner, president of the Woman's Relief Corps, entertained the officers of the W. R. C. at her home Friday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Raymond Curran, who is leaving soon with her husband for California.

Bridge was the amusement for the afternoon, Mrs. Nellie Bales being awarded the first prize and Mrs. E. G. Brenner, the second prize. A delicious two-course luncheon was served, chrysanthemums being the lovely decorations.

A pleasing feature of the afternoon was the presentation to Mrs. Curran of an address book, the guests writing therein their names and address, accompanied by a sentiment, to be read by the owner when among strangers. The entire afternoon was one of much enjoyment, the guests all wishing Mrs. Curran God speed on her journey.

Mr. and Mrs. White-bread Were Surprised

Neighbors and friends to the number of thirty or more, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse White-bread last evening and pleasantly surprised them. Soon all the guests were made welcome and the hospitable home opened to them.

The evening was pleasantly spent in music and games and it proved one of exceptional pleasure for all. The guests presented Mr. and Mrs. White-bread with a handsome electric table lamp, which the host and hostess value highly.

Mrs. Joynt is Ninety-one Years Old Today

Mrs. E. H. Joynt is celebrating her ninety-first birthday today, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Woodruff, 412 Sixth avenue, Sterling, Ill., where she was receiving calls from many friends and relatives. She is a very esteemed woman and has a number of relatives in Dixon.

DINED AT CUPP HOME SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Brown of Sterling were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cupp.
Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hoyt of Joliet, and daughter Adella, of Joliet, were also guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cupp, and attended the meeting of the U. S. W. V. in Dixon, that day.

DR. AND MRS. E. A. SICKELS TO ENTERTAIN

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Sickels will entertain Thursday evening with a picnic supper.

Women Adopt the Colonial Knitted Tie from the Masculine Fashion

With the tremendous growth of the vogue for knitted underwear this fall, the knitted tie has found its place in the feminine mode, and is now being adapted to the blouse worn with the tailored suit, the slip-on sweater, the knitted jacket and the figured silk blouse worn so gracefully beneath the strappings of the new peasant frocks.

Perhaps the most significant feature of this new boyish toggery for women is the beautiful colorings. From Egypt have been borrowed subtle blendings of old red, gold, bronze and pottery blue, cleverly knitted into diagonally striped designs. There are new tones of blue and severely simple patterns almost classic in design.

The newest knitted ties have the popular open ends received so well by the masculine element. And the ties especially adapted to women's blouses are considerably shorter in length, despite the fact that they are purchased at the same counter where brother buys his.

A maroon tie of silk and cotton mixture is a combination which the dark-eyed girl should not overlook in selecting her sports clothes. The business girl may accent the jaunty of her floor-made by the addition of a pretty knitted tie for her blouse collar. And the college girl can show her loyalty to her alma mater in no more personally attractive way than choosing her college hues in the knitted tie which she wears at college sports occasions.

To brighten up your last season's topcoat, just add a bit of color at the neckline of your blouse. Tangle in diagonally striped with old blue, violet with a touch of green, bicuit with old gold and orange stripes or a neatly figured pattern knitted in two shades of your favorite color, will do wonders toward making a passé costume look quite new and up-to-date. ### LUTHERAN BROTHERHOOD MEETS FRIDAY EVENING

The Brotherhood of St. Paul's Lutheran church will hold its regular November meeting Friday evening in the parlors of the church. All men of the church are invited to attend.

League Women Voters to Debate on Issue

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Focusing attention on the elections of 1924, the 400 delegates at the convention of the Illinois League of Women Voters today were to hear a debate on the proposed $100,000,000 road bond issue, to be one of the main planks in Governor Small's platform for re-election.

State Highway Superintendent Frank T. Sheets one of the Governor's chief aids in his campaign, favored the bond issue and H. P. Castle of Barrington, representative in the 51st and 53rd assemblies, opposed.

"The elections of 1924" will be discussed by Mrs. Ella S. Stewart of Chicago, chairman of the "Every Woman at the Polls" Committee of the League, and former Governor F. O. Lowden will tell of "the responsibilities of the Governor of Illinois."

This morning the ten committees which met yesterday reported. Reports of the progress of the various county leagues were made. Mrs. Frank Dufva of Moline reporting for the Rock Island league and Mrs. W. C. Free of Rockford, reporting for the Winnebago league.

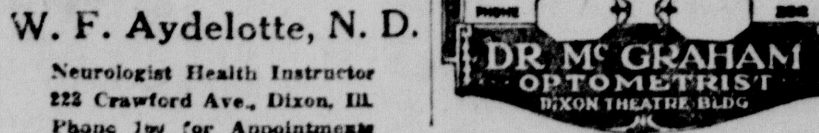

After presentation of the ten committee reports they will lay over 24 hours before final action.

Dr. Rachaelle S. Yarros, chairman of the social hygiene committee will present a report calling for night classes in public schools throughout the state, in which parents may be taught "what parents ought to know," to tell their children.

This report also will request another state institution for women offenders of over 18 years of age, similar to the girls school at Geneva, which accommodates girls under 18.

Recital Was Well Attended Monday

The recital Monday at the Christian church by the pupils of Louis Leydig, under his direction was a most enjoyable affair and well attended by a large company of delightful friends. The pupils certainly did their instructor credit. Mrs. J. E. Reagan gave several most delightful readings in her usual charming manner and Prof. B. Kietzman a comparative new addition to musical circle in Dixon, pleased with a number of beautiful solos. The audience was most appreciative throughout the program. Afterward the True Blue class of the Christian Sunday school were most successful in the sale of tempting refreshments.

SPECIAL MEETING REBEKAH SEWING CLUB

The Rebekah Sewing club will hold a special all-day meeting tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Frank Sprout, 519 East McKinney street, to sew for the apron sale to be announced later. The president requests that all garments finished be turned in tomorrow. A picnic luncheon is to be served at noon, and members attending are requested to furnish their bread and butter sandwiches and one other article of food.

FOR HEAD WEAR

Two of the latest conceits from Paris are the bandeau of flowers to cover the knot for evening wear, and the breakfast cap that does duty just where you would least expect it. The sketches give you the idea.

For evening, French flowers of satin and velvet or silver cloth are arranged on a silk foundation with a bone hairpin concealed on each side to hold it in place.

The boudoir cap is a band of lace and insertion with a pink satin rose placed directly in the back and blue satin streamers on one side and a puffy little bow on the other.

JOHN SUNDINE.

The A. P. wire carried a sad bit of news for newspapermen in Illinois yesterday when the news came through that John Sundine, manager of the Moline Dispatch, had committed suicide. Mr. Sundine was one of the most successful newspapermen in the state and was very active in the state and interstate newspaper organizations. He possessed a keen mind, a great newspaper instinct and a capacity for making friends who loved him for his fine character and good humor.

John Sundine's death is very sad news to those who knew him.

THEY HAVE ALL REPUDIATED.

"If the arguments against the league are sound," remarks Prof. Irving Fisher, "why are these arguments not felt in the other fifty-four countries of the league?" The answer is that they are felt, proved by the fact that not a single one of the members has made any attempt to live up to its obligations under the covenant. Every one of the nations that signed his since repudiated its signature by ignoring its duties. The United States did not sign and assumed no responsibilities. The present attitude of all nations, including the United States, toward the league is practically the same.

FARM IMPLEMENT EXPORTS GROWING.

Exports of agricultural implements in September were valued at $5,522,863, more than double the exports of September, 1922, according to figures compiled by the depart-

Exports for the first nine months of 1923 amounted to $40,001,188, as compared with $19,051,718 in the same period of 1922. This is greater by more than thirty percent than the exports for the calendar year 1922. It is only a little more than two and one-half million dollars less than the total exports in

DOES FORD MEAN IT?

National Tribune, Washington, Nov. 1:
What may be a monkey wrench flung into the political machines and the plans of politicians is Henry Ford's frank announcement that he is strongly for President Coolidge if he makes a sincere effort to enforce prohibition. He feels that the president speeded up the enforcement of prohibition last month, and if he keeps it up Ford is for him.

SHAKESPEARE'S HANDWRITING.

There seems to be considerable excitement in London over the discovery of a couple of pages of manuscript attributed to Shakespeare. Judging from the usual reproductions of the great poet's signature, the antiquarians may have pronounced the writing Shakespeare's because it is too illegible and irregular to be anybody else's. Most of us could never be sure even that Shakespeare's signature spelled "Shakespeare."

No such doubts seem to bother Rafael Schermann, an expert "graphologist" brought from Vienna to London to size up the manuscript. It is explained that Schermann did not know anything about the specimen he was to examine. But after a brief, intense inspection, he made the following report:

The writer of that old manuscript was
"a dead man who had a big forehead, oval face, short, pointed beard and eyes like an eagle's." Furthermore, he was a man of deep feeling, and unhappy. He had been happy as a boy, but had never finished his early education. Yet he was highly cultivated, through "education of the subconscious," and wrote from the heart—with occasional help from some one else with whom he exchanged ideas. He had come from a small town to a big city and had been both playwright and actor.

Any Missourian reading this characterization will naturally wonder whether the Viennese graphologist is a clairvoyant or a reader of Shakespearean biographies. If graphologists can really tell so much about a man's mind, life and work from a casual specimen of his penmanship, perhaps the profession had better be suppressed. There must be some privacy left to sensitive human beings.

Perhaps it is just as well that penmanship is giving way to typing. The typewriter tells less.

DIVISION AMONG VETERANS.

The Ex-Servicemen's Anti-Bonus league has asked the commander of the American Legion for his aid in submitting a referendum to the veterans themselves on the bonus question. It has been the contention of the bonus movement that the majority of the men desired the legislation. The fact could be ascertained by vote, and information placed before congress which it certainly should have for consideration before acting on the bonus proposition.

"Goodby, Mister Will o' the Wisp! We're leaving Dixie Land and we thought we'd come this way."

It was the Twins calling to the mysterious little water fairy of the south.

"My, my, my! It's dreadfully late for children to be out," came Will o' the Wisp's voice, and at the same time a dim light appeared out over the pond. And then Will himself appeared, paddling his boat toward shore where the children were waiting.

"When we're on an errand for the Fairy Queen it is never late," said Nancy. "We have our magic shoes, and that makes us different from other boys and girls."

"Is there any news to take to the Fairy Queen?" asked Nick. "She'll want to know about everything in Dixie Land."

"Yes, yes, I suppose she will," nodded Will o' the Wisp. "I'm glad you stopped. Indeed I was just thinking about you and hoping you'd come along. Something must have happened to Ringtail Coon. He hasn't been around these parts for a week. Poke Nose Pickered says she hasn't seen him, and Mosey Mud Turtle says he hasn't seen him, and neither has Sally Salamander, nor Sammy Sundfish, nor anybody. I haven't much use for Ringtail Coon myself as he leads me such a life, always snooping around after some of my water folk, but really I'm worried."

"It isn't very late yet," offered Nick. "Nancy and I can go and hunt for him, if you'd like."

"That's mighty kind of you," said Will o' the Wisp gratefully. "I'd go myself but I cannot leave the water. Yes, I wish you would look him up for me."

Off went the Twins. It was getting almost too dark to see, but they knew where Ringtail lived in a great button-ball tree, and thither they went and rang his front door bell.

They rang six times before anyone answered, but finally a head in night cap, stuck itself out of an upstairs window and asked sleepily what was wanted.

"Are you all right, Ringtail?"
called Nick. "Will o' the Wisp wants to know. He says he hasn't seen you lately."

"Why, yes, I'm fine," answered Ringtail, yawning. "But 'bout this time of year I have to be careful of Mister Coon Dog. He snoops around until he makes me nervous. After a week or so he'll get tired and go home and I can come down again, but in the meantime I find sleep most healthful. Tell Will o' the Wisp not to worry."

"Well, I'm glad of that," exclaimed the little fairy when he heard it. "We often find that the things that worry us most are the things we miss the greatest when they are gone."

"Goodby," called the Twins.

"Goodby," came Will o' the Wisp's voice in the distance.

The Call of the Wild
BY BERTON BRALEY

A little hut in the wilderness
Is something I'd like to own.
A shelter from worry and toil and stress
Where a fellow could be alone.
Except, perhaps, for a cook and maid
And a butler and chauffeur too,
To keep the house and to give some aid
In doing the things to do.

A little hut in the wilderness,
Though not out there so far
That you couldn't drive in an hour or less
To town in a motor car;
A hut of a dozen rooms or so,
A shack that is rough and plain,
Though well-equipped in a way, you know,
For parties I'd entertain.

A little hut in the wilderness
By a lake that is blue and clear,
With a racing launch or two, I guess,
And a summer hotel quite near.
A hut with plumbing, electric light,
A radio, hardwood floors;
And there, a simple contented wight,
I'd dwell in the Great Outdoors.

ILLEGALITY OF
SUPREME JUDGEFiles Dissenting Opinion in Appeal from Rockford Court.

Springfield, Ill.—(By The Associated Press)—Dissenting from the majority decision of the Supreme court which upheld the conviction of Sam Castree of Rockford for alleged violation of the Illinois Prohibition law, Justice Warren W. Duncan of Marion has written a minority opinion in which he warns of "the appalling consequences that may follow in this state under the ruling now in question."

A re-hearing of the case has been asked by Castree. Whether the court will permit it will be determined at the December term. Castree's appeal was on the ground that his conviction was based on evidence secured in a raid on his premises, made without a legally sufficient search and seizure warrant as required in the prohibition law.

Justice Duncan criticizes that part of the majority opinion by which "the court states that for fifty years it has held in an unbroken line of decisions that the admissibility of evidence is not affected by the illegality of the means by which the evidence was obtained."

"This statement," Justice Duncan writes, "is absolutely true only where no constitutional rights guaranteed by the constitution are violated." He recalls the decision he wrote in the Brocamp case, appealed from Peoria, and his position now, he writes, is the same. "The claim," he adds, "that the holding in the Brocamp case deprives the state of obtaining any legal evidence to which it is entitled is not well made, as such evidence may at any time be obtained by means of a search warrant lawfully obtained. The rules laid down in the Bro-camp case counsel a decent and orderly and legal proceeding by the state or government to obtain and place its legal evidence before the jury; and I

"Infamous Practice"

"Whenever this court refuses to make a proper investigation of protect a defendant against unlawful and unreasonable search and seizure, or search and seizure without the authority of a warrant, against the constitutional rights of the defendant, then from the very moment such decision is the law of this state the rule will be that the officers of this state will continue the infamous practice and purpose of breaking into his home and private premises and seizing his property and papers and compelling him to give evidence against him-whether it is or is not in violation of his constitutional right that he shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself.

"The innocent as well as the guilty will thus have their homes plundered and their property and papers seized by an infamous state officer who has no regard for the constitutional oath he has taken, or who is too ignorant or brutal to meditate for one moment the real meaning of a constitutional oath.

"I must in all cases refuse to give my consent to the affirmation of a judgment when the record shows that the court has absolutely refused to investigate the claim of a defendant properly made that he is being compelled to give evidence against him-

MAH-JONGG HAS BECOME FAD IN CIRCLES OF CITY

Chinese Game is Meeting Great Reception in Dixon.

Are you a Mah Jongg fan? Dixon, in fact, the entire United States, is now seeking to master "the game of a hundred intelligences," that serious, fascinating game, recently brought from China to the United States to lure and intrigue the masses. There is mysticism about the Mah Jongg and his mode of life, that challenges the imagination and induces a curiosity hard to decipher. The dress of the Chinese, their strange customs, their apparently impenetrable masklike faces, appeal to the fancy and throw a veil of mystery around even the commonplace.

Out of China has come this fascinating game with its lure of Oriental mysticism to what jaded appetites and with possibilities for study that challenge the keenest intelligence.

The origin of this game is lost in the mist of centuries past. There is, it is said, an oral tradition that it originated in the court of the King of Wu, now known as Ning-Po, during the year 472 B. C., to entertain his consort and her court ladies. It is, however, known to have been the royal game, restricted to the use of emperors and their friends of the Mandarin class for 2,000 years past. To them it was known as Pe-Ling (taking its name from the "bird of a hundred intelligences" sacred in the Chinese faith.) The penalty, however, of any other class for playing the game at that time, was said to be, the loss of his head.

Later, no one seems to know just when, the privilege of playing the game was extended to the merchant and middle classes. Some 70 years ago, following a social uprising in China, the populace was calmed when one of the concessions granted was the universal privilege of playing Mah Jongg.

With the abolishing of the province of Pe-Ling, each province applied its own name and pronunciation to the game, with the result that today there are many different names, popular among which are Ma-Cheuk, Mah-Juck, Mah-Diao and Mah-Cheung.

First Year in U. S.

Until the past year the game was practically unknown to Europeans and Americans. Even those residing in Chinese cities knew very little about the game, though the Chinese about them had been playing for years.

Recently the game was translated into the English language and the mysterious Chinese characters on the cards or tiles deciphered so that children of tender years may readily learn it and require only practice to play proficiently. The thousand-fold intricacies of Mah-Jongg, however, are such that the science of the game must in the greater part, be studied by the individual player, and one may easily spend the remainder of his life in attaining even a semblance of past-mastery in the game.

With the arrival of the game in America, its name became Pung-Chow, selected because of two words so intimately associated with the game.

It is played with 144 tiles, bone counters, similar to our dominoes, and is a combination of rummy, whist and dominoes. The average game in Dixon stores costs between $5 and $35 yet, it is said, a set of special construction, with jeweled figures and inlaid tables has been made costing more than $5,000.

With many Dixon people now deeply interested in the game stores are finding a ready sale for the sets.

Surrounding the game is a story which recently spread from the coast that sets made of bamboo and brought to this country from China have contained some mysterious poison which infects the hands of the players and then quickly spreads to the rest of the body. This, however, is not true of the American made games even though they, too, offer a disease spreading menace in that individual players will insist upon rubbing a sore on their face or hands while playing with the tiles.

Women it is claimed, and it is far from the desire of the writer to enter a controversy or belittle the women, yet it is claimed they are inferior to men in mastering the game.

Nothing is more exasperating or boring to a man or a woman who has mastered the game, than to sit around the table and hear women discussing the latest bit of scandal, or some other insignificant subject, instead of having their mind on the game. A player must concentrate to play correctly and efficiently.

Perhaps that is why it is a man's game? Mah-Jongg, however, has now entered the free-for-all stage here and is gathering victims in tenement and castle. We can soon expect to hear a song from the vaudeville stage, "She's got the Mah-Jongg craze," and the gentle young women who daily manipulate the keys of their typewriters that the world may read in our social columns what kind of a dress Mrs. Moneybags wore at the opera last night, will, in the near future, be writing about the Mah-Jongg parties among the 400, as the crowning and "lead" social event of the day.

Ottawa Man Blind from Bad Liquor

Ottawa—Eugene Allen of Ottawa has lost the sight of both eyes as a result of drinking what police claim was moonshine whisky. He was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct and placed in jail, where he was kept until it was discovered that his condition was serious. At a hospital it was discovered that he was blind. Police are trying to find the person who sold the hooch.

Rockford Klan Has Leased Driving Park

Announcement that Rockford Blackhawk Klan, No. 76, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, have leased Rockford driving park for five years and intend to erect a large Klavern or lodge room seating 15,000 persons was made by Klan headquarters.

During the summer months, it is said, the Klan will hold its "naturalization" ceremonies in the open but in case of rain, the meetings will be held in the big building.

A house now on the property will be remodeled as a clubroom, in charge of a custodian.

It is also stated that future plans of the organization contemplate making the Klankraft pageant an annual affair. Women of the Klan will hold their meetings at the driving park.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR MAILING CHRISTMAS PACKAGES ARE OUT

Post Office Department Gives Information for Holiday Mail.

As the time draws nearer when the heavy Christmas mail is felt, the post office department is taking every means available to care for the rush and we are in receipt this week of a bulletin from the department which we feel will benefit the postoffice and the sender of mail matter if the directions are carried out. We print the bulletin below:

Wrapping and Packing
All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed in order to reach their destination in good condition. In wrapping ordinary packages strong paper and heavy twine should be used.

Special Packing
Umbrellas, canes, golf sticks should be reinforced, their full length by strong strips of wood tightly wrapped and tied to withstand transportation.

Hats: Pack in strong corrugated or fiber boxes. Ordinary pasteboard hat boxes must be crated. Ladies' hats and stiff hats easily damaged should be marked "fragile."

Shoes: Pack in strong boxes, preferably corrugated cardboard. Wrap with strong paper securely tied with heavy twine.

Cut Flowers: Place in strong suitable boxes of wood, tin, or heavy corrugated cardboard. Wrap with tissue to retain moisture.

Candles: Inclose in strong outside boxes or containers.

Drawings, paintings, unmounted maps, etc. Pack or wrap in strong material to avoid damage. When not flat, roll around a wooden core and then wrap and tie carefully or place in strong pasteboard tube.

Sharp pointed or sharp edged instruments or tools must have points and edges carefully guarded to prevent injury to clerks in handling or damage to other mail. Crate suitably or thoroughly wrap so that they can not cut through the wrappings.

Fragile Articles
Articles easily broken or crushed must be crated or securely wrapped. Use liberal quantities of excelsior, or like material, in, around and between the articles and the outside container.

Glassware, fragile toys, crockery must be packed so as to prevent the escape of particles or pieces if broken in transit.

Cigars: Ordinary boxes of cigars wrapped in paper will not be accepted. Pack in a manner to prevent damage by shock or jar. Wrap in corrugated pasteboard or similar material.

All articles easily broken or damaged must be marked "fragile." Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation and delivery will not be accepted for mailing. Wrap or pack carefully, according to contents, and plainly mark all such parcels "Perishable."

Addresses
Addresses should be complete, with house number and name of street, postoffice box, or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in upper left hand corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the address should also be written on the wrapper for use if the tag is lost, and a copy of the address should be inclosed inside the parcel.

Postage
Postage must be fully prepaid on all mail. Affix the required amount of postage in the upper right hand corner. Full information concerning postage rates can be obtained at the parcel post window or stamp window.

Limit of Weight and Size
No parcel can be more than 34 inches in length and girth combined, for delivery locally and in the first, second and third zones, 70 pounds is the maximum weight in all other zones, 50 pounds.

Where to Mail Parcels
Uninsured parcels 4 ounces or less in weight may be mailed in street letter or package boxes, at all classified stations and branches, and at such numbered stations as are designated to receive parcels. Parcels weighing over 4 ounces can not be mailed in street boxes, but must be taken to the main postoffice or classified station or branch. Parcels containing meat, food products, cut flowers, or other perishable matter should be mailed only at the main postoffice or one of the large classified stations.

When to Mail Christmas Parcels
Christmas gifts addressed to points within one day's travel should be mailed not later than December 21; within two days' travel, not later than December 18; within three days' travel, not later than December 16; for more distant points, not later than December 14. Parcels for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 22.

Parcels may be insured. "Please do Not Open Until Christmas."

Stamps and Stickers
Christmas stamps and stickers of any character must not be placed on the address side of mail matter. Posters or stickers resembling postage stamps are not permissible on mail matter. In using Christmas stickers they should be so placed as not to seal the parcel.

Matter Not Mailable at Parcel Post Rates

Written matter in the nature of personal correspondence can not be inclosed in parcels.

Miscellaneous printed matter which weigh not more than 4 pounds can not be mailed as parcel post. Such matter weighing over 4 pounds may be mailed as parcel post.

Communications attached to parcels: A letter placed in an envelope, addressed to correspondent with the address on the parcel, and fully prepaid at the first class rate, may be tied or otherwise securely attached to the outside of the parcel in such manner as to prevent separation therefrom and not obscure the address on the parcel.

Special Delivery Service
Special delivery service is obtained by affixing a 10-cent special delivery stamp or ten cents worth of ordinary stamps in addition to the regular postage. When ordinary stamps are used, the words, "special delivery" must be written or printed directly below, but not on the stamps. Special delivery is for speed and not for safety. Valuable mail should be registered or insured.

Insure or Register Valuable Mail
All valuable domestic parcel post mail should be insured.
Fees: Value not exceeding $5.30; not exceeding $25, 5 cents; not exceeding $50, 10 cents; not exceeding $100, 25 cents.

Coin, currency, jewelry, and articles of similar value should be sent as sealed first class registered mail.

Parcels for Foreign Countries
Parcels of mailable merchandise may be sent (subject to certain limitations and conditions) by international parcel post to all foreign countries except Arabia, Spanish Giplana, and Tristan Da Cunha. Parcels weighing 4 pounds 6 ounces or less may be sent to Cuba subject to the domestic parcel post rates and conditions. Foreign parcel post packages should be mailed at the main office or large classified stations.

Owing to the long sea travel involved in most instances and customs inspection abroad, foreign parcels should be most carefully packed and mailed in November.

Information
For further information on any of the above subjects or concerning any other postal matter, inquire at the proper window; stamp, parcel post, money, order, registry, etc., or see the postmaster or one of his assistants.

CAROLING GIVEN OBSERVANCE MANY CITIES LAST YEAR

1,154 Communities in U. S. Sang Christmas Carols in 1922.

From a traceable total of thirty in 1918 the number of cities and towns in the United States that observe the fine old custom of outdoor Christmas caroling had increased in 1922 to 1,154 according to an elaborate survey just issued by the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music from its offices in New York. It is expected that Christmas of 1923, now less than two months away, will be greeted by merry carolers in close to 2,000 communities in every state in the Union. The survey, of convenient size and appropriately printed in green and red, is the Yuletide spirit, is headed "Christmas Caroling in 1922." A short history of outdoor caroling in the United States as revealed in the Bureau's records is given, followed by a map of the United States, on which in red, is indicated all towns and cities in which caroling groups sang through the streets, in parks, public squares, etc., in December, 1922. Following that is printed a complete list alphabetically arranged according to states and cities, of all the places in which, according to the bureau's records, the custom was observed last year.

"Ten years ago," says the Advancement Bureau in its survey, "outdoor Christmas Eve Caroling, especially by transient groups through the streets of town and village, was almost unknown in this country. The beautiful old custom that had once been universal in England had all but died."

"The widespread adoption of the Community Christmas Tree did much to bring the carols to public attention again. Yet the singing of the charming old Yuletide songs for the public benefit was all too infrequent and the general absence of the 'waits,' the traveling bands of carolers, in their picturesque red cambric capes, was particularly regrettable."

"The National Bureau for the Advancement of Music, which is interested in extending more widely the influence and utilization of music among the American people, saw in the Christmas caroling a custom of most inspiring uses of song, as a satisfaction to the singer, a joy to the community, and a means of expressing the Christmas spirit. In 1917, therefore, shortly after its own inception, the Bureau, at the suggestion of C. A. Grinnell of Detroit, began working actively for the country-wide expansion of the custom. It pointed as a model to the splendid organization for Christmas singing that had been worked out on a city-wide scale in Detroit. As a further aid to the movement the Bureau issued its booklet, 'Christmas Eve Caroling Being Revived,' giving a brief outline of the history of the custom and instructions for procedure to those interested in carrying out the plan locally."

"By this time the movement had made considerable advance, and in the first edition of the booklet, a year after efforts were made to revive the movement, 30 cities and towns in which the outdoor caroling had been introduced were included. There were undoubtedly more than this number, but the Bureau had not full facilities for tracing them. By the time the second edition was published in October, 1920, the list was more than trebled and it has continued to grow with astonishing rapidity ever since, as the following figures taken from the bureau's record will show:

30 cities and towns Dec. 1918,
110 cities and towns Dec. 1919,
330 cities and towns Dec. 1920,
667 cities and towns Dec. 1921,
1,154 cities and towns Dec. 1922.

"The total for 1922 does not include 300 cities and towns in the previous surveys from which no reports were received as to 1922. Undoubtedly a large percentage of them observed the custom."

"The response of the public, scattered from coast to coast and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico, furnishes convincing evidence that the outdoor Christmas caroling has struck a popular chord and fulfills a popular desire."

"Some of the cities were large, others small. Some had caroling groups enough to cover the entire area, others for but one or two districts; while in still others carols were sung around the community Christmas tree only. The information was gathered from newspaper clippings from all parts of the country, as well as by direct correspondence, and it is probable that many cities were overlooked. No places were included when the caroling was simply an indoor or church event."

New York led all states in the number of towns and cities reported as having observed the caroling custom in 1922. Its total was 111. Pennsylvania was second with 93, Massachusetts

IT IS UP TO YOU Not to be Disappointed

We cannot urge you too strongly to place your orders for Christmas cards early, as in the past there have been entirely too many customers disappointed in making a late selection and not being able to secure the card desired or have it engraved in ample time.

You can appreciate that it is impossible for us to estimate the quantity that will be sold of the various numbers, and we cannot take the chance of running up large quantities of every number to avoid any shortage. We naturally try to arrange our stock so that we have as little stock on hand at the end of the season as possible.

Therefore, we urge you to give your orders immediately, so as to permit us to make re-runs on those numbers that show the greatest sales. Toward the end of the season, this is impossible and customers will then have to be satisfied to make first, second and third choice.

HONEYMOON MUST WAIT OPENING OF GATES OF PRISON

Girl Bride of Detroit to Wait Patiently for Boy Husband.

By NEA Service

Detroit.—The greatest test ever made of a woman's love, loyalty and devotion is being imposed here on the youthful shoulders of Frances Miller Smith, girl bride of 17.

Frances and her newly wed husband, Harry B. Smith, 21 have just entered upon the initial stage of one of the most tragic honeymoons on record.

The young husband must spend the first years of his married life behind the bars of Ionia, Mich., reformatory, where he must serve from two and one-half to seven years in expiation of a burglary of which he has been convicted.

The wife can see her husband on visitors' day only. Then she will be permitted only to murmur a few words of love and promise of loyalty through steel bars while an armed guard listens.

Wed In Cell.
In the intervals between her visits, the bride will work and earn the money which will provide a nest-egg for the young couple when the state permits them to begin their actual married life together.

She will allow herself no pleasures—not even an occasional motion picture show, because she must save every cent against the future and because, she says, she could not enjoy any amusement while her husband is confined.

The young couple were married in a cell in the Wayne county jail here immediately after the bridegroom's conviction. Circuit Judge Aldrich Baxter pronounced the words that made them one, while Henry Wagner, jail trustee, and Mrs. Celia Mullin, sister-in-law of the bride, acted as best man and matron of honor.

Barely had the ceremony ended and the husband kissed his newly made bride than Smith, under an armed escort, was placed in a patrol wagon and whisked to a railway station whence a train bore him to Ionia.

School Day Romance.
The bride was taken to her sister's home where the meager meal of a poor family served as a wedding supper. The next morning she started to work.

"Harry and I went to school together five years ago in Canada," the bride says.

"It was there our romance started. When that tender age I knew he had been made for me and I for him. Later my family moved to Niagara Falls and then to Detroit. Harry came here too. We were happy going about together—he was the only 'buddy' I ever had or wanted."

"Six weeks ago he took me home from a theater and left for his lodging. On the way he encountered some friends who gave him some drinks. Harry says—and I believe him—that he remembered nothing more until an officer took him into custody."

At Smith's trial it was proved that he had entered and looted a store.

"But I believe him innocent," says Frances. "And I shall patiently await his release."

Jordan—The Father and Son banquet last Wednesday evening was one of the most interesting social affairs held at the East Jordan church. 125 men and boys were present and enjoyed a sumptuous supper and a fine program. Alex Anderson presided as toastmaster. W. C. Davies of the Sterling Y. M. C. A. led the choral singing, and also favored with a vocal solo. Rev. M. B. Leach, pastor of the East Jordan church gave a short address. William Hummel and Louis Scholl sang a duet. The ladies gathered at the parsonage and enjoyed a social evening. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. C. Davis entertained at dinner Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Kroh and little son and Mrs. Mary Motter and daughter, Mildred.

Mrs. Hastings, having spent the week with Mrs. Davis returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Frank and Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Shaw of Sterling spent Thursday evening at the J. A. Gilbert home.

Mrs. Mary Motter and daughter, Miss Mildred of Leaf River, spent the week end in the J. A. Gilbert home.

Floyd Finkle will hold a closing out sale on Dec. 6. Mr. and Mrs. Finkle will move to Polo where he will embark in business.

The Arthur Majeski family of Prophetstown visited at the Fred Shable home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gilbert spent Sunday in Morrison.

Mrs. Fred Duprey of North Jordan passed away on Sunday morning after a long illness. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

S. R. Ayres returned to his home in Falls City, Neb., on last Saturday morning after spending a week with his mother, Mrs. Mary Ayres.

The meetings at Penrose will begin on Sunday evening, Nov. 25. Rev. R. Strode will be assisted by Rev. E. A. Raymond of Alloway.

Word has been received from Mrs. Marion Curtis who is in St. John's hospital at Springfield for treatment, to the effect that she is steadily improving and may be able to return home soon.

There is no improvement in the condition of Mrs. Mary Ayres and she is growing weaker slowly. Alex Grush of Naperville, a nephew, visited her Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. M. B. Leach and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Scholl and daughters Rosa and Helen drove through to Indianapolis, Ind., on Friday. They visited with their children, Miles and Gertrude Leach and Miss Edith Scholl and others who are attending college at Indianapolis. They returned home on Monday evening.

George Goy and wife, Ross Schultz and family spent Sunday evening at the Matthew Kelly home.

George Quest was a business visitor in Ohio Monday.

Mrs. Neil Friel and daughters Maria and Helen were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Margaret Ryan. Helen Ryan, who is attending high school at Aurora, spent the week end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCormick and Mrs. Delmar Powers visited Sunday with Miss Agnes McEldien.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gross and family of Ohio visited Sunday, with George Gillen.

Don Shaw and Lyle Minnick were callers at the Neil Friel home Sunday.

Supervisor Thomas P. Long of Harmon visited Sunday with Charles McFadden.

The Misses Frances and Mary McFadden were Ohio shoppers Saturday afternoon.

George Gillen made a business trip to Amboy Saturday.

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 27, at St. Patrick's hall a play will be given by home talent, entitled, "Dust of the Earth."

Most of the farmers have finished the husking of corn in this vicinity. Thomas Murphy was a visitor in Amboy Monday.

Bob Stewart shelled and delivered his corn to Van Orrin Tuesday.

There are about 18,000 more per cent of Welsh origin in the country than in 1919.

New Mining Town in Illinois Grows at Exceptional Rate

Nason, Ill.—Youngest of the municipalities of state, Nason, Ill., Jefferson county's new coal mining town, is growing so rapidly that officials of the Illinois coal corporation predict a population of 3,000 within a year.

The town has sprung up since April of this year, when the Illinois coal corporation started sinking two huge twin shafts, and has now 123 homes, with forty more under construction and contracts let for sixty more. One of the shafts, according to mine experts, will be the largest coal shaft in existence while the two will make the Nason mine the largest twin shaft mine in this county. The smaller of the two shafts recently struck a vein of coal eight feet and ten inches thick at the 720 foot level. The other shaft has penetrated more than 500 feet, drillers said, and has already passed a vein of coal four feet thick.

Mining men who have examined the coal now being taken from the smaller shaft pronounce it "fine quality coal." Vice President Zook of the corporation declared that the field is large enough to be productive for at least 100 years. He says that drainage problems, encountered when the shafts were first started have been met satisfactorily.

The town is connected with Mount Vernon, Ill., by a recently laid railroad whose officials report that its business has been heavy to date.

A school has been established in the upper part of a business district building with sixty pupils enrolled.

Vice-President Zook estimated that between 1,000 and 1,500 men will be employed in the mine when both shafts are in full operation. Mr. Zook said that the maximum capacity of the mine will be between 10,000 and 12,000 tons in eight hours, and that the equipment will be modern throughout. The miners are to be equipped with electric safety lamps protected by heavy glass covers as a precaution against explosions.

President Coolidge and Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, were the only presidential nominees considered at the 60 republican conventions, yet most of the county delegations were uninstructed. The president received instructed delegations from four counties and a fifth endorsed the national administration. Three counties came out for the "favorite son." Other conventions instructed their delegates to vote for state officials active in the Johnson cause. Ford was endorsed in two counties under the farmer-labor banner, other third party counties from which reports have been received sending their delegations uninstructed. Three counties passed resolutions favoring formation of a third party.

NOT GUILTY.
First Stenographer—The idea of your working steady eight hours a day! I wouldn't think of such a thing.

Second Stenographer—I wouldn't either. It was the boss that thought of it.—Town Topics, New York.

CONTINUED COLORS
Black and white combinations are shown in the new cottons and wools for spring.

THEY'LL LOSE THEIR DADDIES.
LONDON—Engine drivers—they call them engineers in the U. S. A.—are coddling their iron steeds too much to suit British railway officials. Their affections, 'tis said, have disrupted schedules. No longer will the old timer murmur coaxingly to his engine: "Steady, now, Polly, steady! Quietly, now, old girl—there's plenty of time!" For an engineer will not be permitted to remain at the throttle of any particular locomotive long enough to get that fond of it.

LAWYER GETS AN EARFUL.
"And what time did the robbery take place?" asked the lawyer. "I think—" began the witness. "We don't care what you think," put in the attorney, "we want to know what you know."

"Then," rejoined the witness, "I might as well get down off the stand. I can't talk without thinking. I'm no lawyer."—Success.

BELIEVED IN SIGNS
The excited citizen rushed into the little bank and slapped a $50 bill down upon the cashier's window ledge. "Gimme two cases," he cried. "What?" asked the astonished cashier. "What? Two cases of what?"

"Anything. I'll drink whatever it is; I saw a sign outside that said 1 per cent."—Wayside Tales.

Today's Market Report

Corn, Wheat Rally After Poor Opening

Chicago, Nov. 21.—With lower quotations at Liverpool, the wheat market here underwent an early decline today as a result of absence of support. Selling however, was only of a scattering nature and rallies ensued. Upturns in the stock market and in cotton tended to make wheat bears cautious. The opening which ranged from 1/4 to 1/2 lower; Dec. 1.01 1/2 and May 1.07 1/2 was followed by a little further setback and then by something of a recovery led by July.

Fine husking weather eased corn. After opening unchanged to 1/2 lower Dec. 73 1/2, prices showed a slight general decline and then rallied somewhat.

WALTON AGAIN GOES TO COURT WITH HIS PLEA

Seeks Injunction to Set Aside Verdict of Senate Court.

BULLETIN.
Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—J. C. Walton, deposed governor, appeared at the county court house today and announced he expected to be indicted by the grand jury and intended to be ready to submit to arrest. He said he did not know what the expected indictment would charge.

County officials advised Walton to return at 2 o'clock when the grand jury is to report.

All information obtained by the legislative committee which formed the basis of his impeachment and removal from office, was turned over to the grand jury recently.

BULLETIN.
Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Application of J. C. Walton, deposed governor for a restraining order to set aside the verdict of the senate impeachment court by which he was removed from office was dismissed today by Federal Judge Cotten. Walton announced an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Dismissal was on motion of G. F. Short, state attorney general. As in a previous hearing at Lawton, Judge Cotten ruled his court had jurisdiction. Costs were assessed against Walton. The formal notice of appeal will be filed late today.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Opening his fight to regain the governor's office, J. C. Walton went into federal court today to renew his plea for government intervention in the senate court of impeachment by which he was convicted of 11 charges of official misconduct and ousted by unanimous verdict. He seeks a retroactive injunction to set aside action of the senate court and restore him to office on grounds that he was denied the right of a fair trial.

He charges that a majority of members of the court were Ku Klux Klan members who acted in furtherance of a conspiracy between the Klan and the legislature to remove him.

The action today is a rehearing of the former governor's application which was denied by Federal Judge Cotten.

Meanwhile the state legislature prepared to go ahead with plans for a general "clean-up" of the administration and to consider anti-Klan legislation.

Kewanee Banker Has Plan to Sell Wheat Through Government

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 21.—The Gould plan, whereby it is proposed to increase the price of wheat to the farmer by having the United States War Finance Corporation purchase and pay for 50,000,000 bushels of wheat and sell it to Germany, taking Germany's I. O. U. in return, was explained to the members of the Lions' Club here last night by W. E. Gould, Kewanee banker and originator of the plan. Mr. Gould hopes to get a bill through congress early in the coming session, embodying his plan. He thinks it the best plan advanced so far to aid the farmers.

Kills His Estranged Wife; Then Himself

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Montezuma, Ind., Nov. 21.—Falling in an attempt to effect a reconciliation with his wife, from whom he had been separated for some time, Marvin Watson, 21, last night shot three bullets from a revolver into his wife's body and then shot himself. Both were instantly killed.

BROTHER FORMER DIXON MAN TOOK OWN LIFE TUESDAY

Robert Donichy, Known in Dixon, Slashed
Wrists, Throat.

Robert Donichy of Sterling, aged 32, brother of Harry Donichy formerly of Dixon and himself well known in this city, took his own life sometime Monday night by cutting the arteries in his wrists and then slashing his throat in his room at the Sterling Inn. The Sterling Gazette recorded the tragedy as follows:

Robert J. Donichy, aged 32 years, committed suicide at an early hour this morning, in his room at the Sterling Inn, by slashing his throat and both wrists. Fred Sneed proprietor of the Inn, notified Coroner C. M. Frye about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, that he was of the opinion that something was wrong, and Coroner Frye, Officer Ben Reel and H. E. Kidd went to the room, worked the key out of the door and used a pass key to enter. A gruesome sight met their eyes.

The room was disheveled, indicating that after the young man had slashed his wrists that he wandered about the room, and several things in the room bore blood stains. He then returned to the bed and slashed his throat, and fell back on the bed. The razor was in a pool of blood on the floor beside the bed. He also had cuts on his face. "Bob" was a former Morrison boy, getting his education in the schools of that city. He was a very fine young man, but became addicted to drink and on numerous occasions had tried to rid himself of the curse. No one knows how hard he really tried to break the habit. Each time he would fall, he would become despondent and threaten to commit suicide. Everything possible was done for him by his family and hosts of friends.

Monday evening he seemed perfectly normal. He went to his room about 10 o'clock and stopped for a few moments and joked with Chet Edwards, night clerk, before going to his room. Shortly after midnight there was a slight commotion in his room and then things quieted down. About 2 o'clock there was another commotion, but when Mr. Sneed went to the room, all was quiet. When Mr. Donichy did not get up Tuesday morning Mr. Sneed looked over the transom and from what he could see in the darkened room there were indications that he had killed himself.

Bob had been troubled with severe pains in his head and he sought relief from his suffering in drink. He was an excellent workman, being an electrician by trade, and was employed by Tennant & Morridge. He came to Sterling shortly before the war. Enlisted in the service and following the war he returned to Sterling, where he had since made his home.

He leaves his mother, Mrs. Addie Donichy, a brother Harry and sister, Anna M. Donichy of Morrison, and a sister, Mrs. Carl P. Hansen of Santa Monica, Calif. His aunt, Miss Anna Miller resides in Sterling. No funeral arrangements have been made, pending word from his sister in California. The inquest was held Tuesday afternoon at the Forster Undertaking Parlor.

And This is Mexico!

It used to be folks went to Mexico for the races and the bull fights. And since a certain amendment to Uncle Sam's constitution became effective others have journeyed across the Rio Grande to quaff mescal or pulque. But now it looks like there's another reason. Here she is, Maria Cones, who answers so many certain calls on the Mexican stage.

ILLINI DRILL FOR BUCKEYE BATTLE

Urbana, Illinois.—Eager to cop the Ohio game at Columbus, the Illini are hard at work on Illinois field. Bob Zuppkie is drilling them on defense for the passes which Hoge Workman is expected to hurl. The Illini coach is far from expecting anything but a tough battle in the Buckeye stadium. The Bucks will have their backs to the wall and with everything to win and nothing to lose may be expected to uncock everything they have.

The Illini will entrain Thursday night, arriving at Columbus at noon Friday. The Illini club of the Buckeye capital will stage a rally that night at which George Huff and Zuppkie will speak. Two special trains will leave here Friday night. The ticket sale goes on merrily and Illinois will have a big crowd of supporters. Ohio expects about 50,000 people to see the game.

On two previous occasions the Illinois invasion has made history. In 1919 the Illini won the championship of the conference in the famous 9-7 victory. In 1921 the down-trodden Orange and Blue eleven won from Ohio 7 to 0, furnishing the greatest upset of the season. Now Illinois returns a big favorite but the tradition which holds Illinois-Ohio games always be close ones is potent.

The Illini are in fine shape for the final battle. Harold Grange is completely recovered from the bump he got in the Wisconsin game and could have played against Mississippi if desired. If he had there is no telling what the score would have been, without detriment to the desperate struggle which the southerners made.

FOR FINAL GAMES.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Nov. 21.—Jockeying into form for the final fights of the season. Big Ten coaches are attempting to put the squads in their best fighting trim for Saturday's five Big Ten contests.

The championship race is in as fine a mix-up as the most ardent fan could hope for with three teams having a chance.
Illinois has four victories, Michigan has three and Minnesota has two victories and a tie. The Illini must overcome Ohio State at Columbus to lay claim to first honors while Minnesota and Michigan fight it out at Ann Arbor.

Eighteen Children Reared By Mendotan

Mendota, Nov. 20.—The honor of having raised the largest of any present day family of children in LaSalle county has been awarded John P. Schneider, recently deceased who was the father of eighteen children. There are fourteen still living, as was shown recently when the will was admitted to probate. A filing in the administration of the estate shows that his estate is worth $41,200.

VELVET POPULAR.

Velvet for street, afternoon and evening wear is one of the most popular materials, report some manufacturers. Twill and charmeuse street dresses are also in great demand, with broadened materials for formal occasions.

OPEN HEARINGS IN VETS' BUREAU PROBE AT END

Senate Committee to Consider Evidence in Seclusion.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Nov. 21.—With the public hearings virtually ended, counsel for the senate veterans' committee began today shaping up for the consideration by the committee the volume of information gathered in the investigation of the activities of the Veterans' Bureau. Put under way last March, the inquiry culminated in charges of corruption, waste, debauchery and intrigue.

With the closing of the public sessions, J. F. O'Ryan, general counsel, told the committee last night that what has been presented publicly, "constituted but a fragment of what has been developed, both in relation to the neglect of the disabled and to corruption and waste in the bureau."

The committee hopes to have its report ready for the senate by Dec. 15. Announcing that to date the committee had expended less than $15,000 of the $20,000 appropriation which the senate voted to it, Senator Reed said he thought the committee "can fairly claim there is no waste of money on our part while we are investigating the waste of public funds."

Battling Siki No Match for Norfolk

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, Nov. 21.—Battling Siki, conqueror of Georges Carpentier and former world's heavyweight champion, came up to expectations as a spectacular performer, but not as a formidable fighting machine in his 15 round match last night with Kid Norfolk, Harlem negro. Norfolk whipped the Senegalese decisively.

Siki's acrobatic antics at the start and courageous, if ineffective attempts to fight back, won him the plaudits of the crowd of 12,000. A majority of critics agreed however, he made a far from impressive showing.

GRIDIRON FACTS

By Billy Evans.

THE QUESTION—

With the score standing 10 to 6 in favor of the home team, the quarterback of the visiting team, who is in none too good shape physically, signals for a fair catch on a punt by the home team. There is only a short time to play. The referee was informed by the side making the fair catch that it would put the ball into play by attempting a place kick. The captain of the visiting team made such a decision, believing a successful goal from field would tie the score. As preparations were being made for the play, the captain realized his error and requested that his team be permitted to put the ball into play by scrimmage.

THE ANSWER—

Section 2 of rule 13 says that after a fair catch the ball may be put into play by any player of the side making the catch, by either a put, drop kick, place kick or scrimmage. The captain shall select the method of putting the ball into play and shall be bound by his selection.

"Loaded" Goat Now Considered Safe

Aurora, Nov. 20.—Apparently none the worse for his experience, Dick McMahon's goat, which last Wednesday made a meal on nitroglycerin in gelatin form and ate part of a stick of dynamite for dessert, today frolicked in the pasture at the Central States fairgrounds with the race horses, whose companions he has been since last summer.

Today was the first day that the horses were permitted to go into the same field with the goat. Trainers figured that the danger of an explosion was over, as the animal had galloped from one end of the field to the other any number of times with nothing happening.

KNOW Thy Self

PREVENTING TRACHEOMA.

One often meets persons who boast of their strength and endurance. But endurance is a thing seldom accurately measured and those with so much boasted vitality may easily overstep, and break down or destroy the real effectiveness of delicate bodily adjustments. The eyes for instance, are often abused and overworked so as seriously to injure them.

Radical treatment has done much to prevent and stamp out tracheoma (granulated eyelids). But thought the disease is not nearly as prevalent as it was in this country, it still is a menace in a number of European lands which send many emigrants to the United States. The government physicians at Ellis Island always are on guard, however, and no tracheoma case enters, if detected.

There are parts of America where tracheoma seems to prevail owing to lack of proper sanitation. The prominent symptoms are itching and burning of the eyelids. There is a swelling of the mucous membrane and the eyes are red and discolored. There is much secretion, which may be thin and watery or yellow in appearance. In the morning the lids may stick together. When this condition exists rubbing with the fingers should be avoided. Efforts to dislodge the little nodules will only cause irritation.

Tracheoma may be contracted by using the community towel in working camps or boarding houses which still use such toilet nuisances. Also by contact with articles which have been handled in common, in mills, shops or large working quarters.

Be careful always to keep your hands away from your eyes under any working conditions where infection may be waiting for you. A soothing eye wash is a safety first preventive when any doubt exists at the end of the day. Be on watch for anyone who may have tracheoma and guard against any possible contact.

Cotton raising is making great headway in Africa.

Former Princeton Woman Found Dead

East Moline, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Mary Wilkins, 36, a former resident of Princeton, Ill., was found dead in her room at the Watertown state hospital yesterday, and a coroner's jury at an inquest this morning said that death was due to epileptic convulsions.

The inquest was conducted by John F. Maberry, coroner, in the parlors of the Doran funeral home.

Attendants found the body of Mrs. Wilkins. She had been dead several hours, it appears.

Mrs. Wilkins is survived by the widow, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Savage, Princeton, two sisters and a brother. The body will be sent to Princeton tonight for interment.

Mrs. Wilkins had been a patient at the hospital since 1913.

MATING IN THE WILDS

BY OTTOWELL SIMMS

ILLUSTRATED BY B. R. MONTGOMERY

B. R. MONTGOMERY ALSO ALPHEA A. MONTGOMERY, GREENSBORO, N.C.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Robert Stane, discharged convict, visits a northern post of the Red Sea Bay Company. He meets an old-time friend, Gerald Ainley, who promises to call at Stane's camp at midnight. Stane becomes acquainted with an Indian girl named Misko-deed. At midnight Stane is attacked and carried away by Indians in a canoe. He awakens to find himself in strange surroundings. Ainley is in love with Helen Yardey, niece of a governor of the company. Helen disappears from her uncle's camp and Gerald goes in search of her. Stane rescues Helen from the river as her canoe travels toward a dangerous waterfall.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
He did not wait for any reply, but walked to the little fly-tent, and three or four minutes later emerged, puffing a pipe. He waved toward the tent, and turning away began to walk rapidly up river. Helen Yardey sat where she was for a moment looking after him. There was a very thoughtful expression on her face.

She walked to the tent, and with amused eyes looked at the articles of attire obviously arranged for her inspection. A gray flannel shirt, a leather belt, a pair of Bedford cord breeches, a pair of moccasins, miles too large for her, and a mackinaw jacket a little the worse for wear.

CHAPTER VI
A Mysterious Shot

TWENTY minutes later, as Hubert Stane returned along the river bank, he saw the girl emerge from the tent, and begin to arrange her own sudden attire where the heat of the fire would dry it. The girl completed her task just as he arrived at the camp, and stood upright, the rich blood running in her face. Then a flash of laughter came in her gray eyes.

"Well?" she asked, challenging his gaze.

"You make a very proper man," he answered, laughing.

Without further delay he began to prepare a meal, heating an already roasted partridge on a spit, and making coffee, which, with biscuit, he set before her.

Stane once more left the camp, taking with him a hatchet, and presently returned dragging with him branches of young spruce with which he formed a bed a little way from the fire. On the he threw a blanket, and his preparation for the night completed, turned to the girl once more.

"I never enjoyed a meal so much in my life," she declared, as she lifted the tin plate from her lap. "And this coffee is delicious. Won't you have some, Mr. Stane?"

"Thank you, Miss a-Miss—"

"Yardey is my name," she said quickly. "Helen Yardey." He took the coffee as she handed it to him in an enameled mug, then he said: "How did you come to be adrift, Miss Yardey?"

As he asked the question a thoughtful look came on the girl's beautiful face.

"I was making a little trip by myself," she said slowly. "To see a beaver dam in a creek a little below our campment, and some one shot at me."

"Shot at you?" Stane stared at her in amazement as he gave the exclamation.

"Yes, twice! The second shot broke my paddle, and as I had no spare one, and as I cannot swim, I could do nothing but drift with the current."

"It was a very fortunate thing you struck those rocks," said Stane meditatively.

"Fortunately, Mr. Stane? Why?"

"Because in all probability I should not have seen you if you had not; and a few miles below here there are some bad rapids, and below them the river makes a leap downwards of nearly a hundred feet."

"A fall?" cried the girl, her face blanching a little, as she flashed a glance down-stream. "Oh, that would have been terrible! It was fortunate that you were here."

"Very," he agreed earnestly, "and I am beginning to think that it was providential; though all day I have been cursing my luck that I should have been in this neighborhood at all. I have no business here."

"Then why—" she began, and stopped as if a little afraid that her question was too frankly curious.

"You need not mind asking, Miss Yardey; because the truth is that my presence in this neighborhood is due to a mystery that is almost as insoluble as the one that brought you drifting down-stream. On the night after you arrived at Fort Malsun, I was waiting at my tent door for a man whom I expected a visit from, when I was knocked on the head by an Indian, and when I came to, I found I was a prisoner, under sentence of deportation. We traveled some days, rather a roundabout journey, as I have since guessed, and one morning I awoke to find my captors had disappeared, leaving me with my canoe and stores and arms absolutely untouched."

"You say you were waiting for a man when you were seized, Mr. Stane; tell me, was the man Gerald Ainley?"

"The young man was a little startled by her question, as his manner showed, but he answered frankly: "Yes! But how did you guess that?"

"Helen Yardey smiled. "Oh, that was quite easy. The way the topic of conversation at the dinner-table on the very night that you disappeared; and I gathered that to the factor you were something of a mystery, whilst no one except Mr. Ainley knew anything whatever about you. As you and he were old acquaintances, what more natural than that you should be waiting for him? I suppose he did not come?"

"If he did, I never saw him—and I waited for him two nights!"

"Two?" cried Helen. "Then he could not have waited to come."

"I rather fancy he did not," replied Stane with a bitter laugh.

"You wished to see him very much?" asked the girl quickly. "It was important that you should?"

"I wished to question him upon a matter that was important to me."

"Ah," said the girl in a tone that was full of significance. Stane looked at her sharply, and then asked a question:

"What was the question?"

"Winagot?" said Stane.

"What are you thinking, Miss Yardey?"

"Oh, I was just thinking that I had guessed one of your wildly possible reasons, Mr. Stane; and to tell the truth, if Mr. Ainley was really anxious to avoid embarrassing your questions, it does not seem to me so inherently improbable as you appear to think."

"What convinces you of that, Miss Yardey?"

"Well," she replied quickly, "you say the Indian told you that it was an order. I ask myself—whose order? There were very few people at Fort Malsun to give orders. I think of them in turn. The factor? You were a stranger to him! My uncle? He never heard of you except in gossip over the dinner-table the night you were deported. Gerald Ainley? He knew you! He had made appointments with you that he twice failed to keep—which, quite evidently, he had no intention of keeping. He had—may I guess?—some strong reason for avoiding you, and he is a man of some authority in the company and moving to still greater. He would not know the Indians who actually carried you away; but Factor Rodwell would, and factors are only human, and sooner or later Gerald Ainley will be able to considerably influence Mr. Rodwell's future. Therefore—well, Q.E.D. Do you not agree with me?"

"I find your argument convincing," answered Stane, grimly. "Then he lapsed into thoughtful silence, whilst the girl watched him, wondering what was in his mind. Presently she knew, for most unexpectedly the young man gave vent to a short laugh."

"What a fool the man is!" he declared. "He must know that we shall meet again sometime! . . . But, Miss Yardey, I am keeping you from your rest. We must start betimes in the morning if I am to take you back to your uncle."

"If you take me back—" There is no question of that," he answered promptly. "I could not dream of leaving you here."

"I was about to say you would very likely meet Gerald Ainley. He has joined my uncle's party."

"So much the better," cried Stane. "I shall certainly go."

At the first hint of dawn, Stane rose from his seat, gathered up the girl's now dry raiment, and put it in a heap at the tent door, then procuring a canvas bucket of water he set that beside the clothes and busied himself with preparing breakfast. After a little time Helen emerged from the tent.

"Good morning, Mr. Stane," she said in gay salutation, "you are the early bird. I hope you slept well."

"May I reciprocate the hope, Miss Yardey?"

"Never better, thank you. I think hunger and adventure must be beautiful, sleep like the seven sleepers rolled into one; I feel as fresh as the morning, and as hungry as well, you will see," she ended with a laugh.

"Then fall to," he said, joining in the laughter. "The sooner the breakfast is over the sooner we shall start."

"I warn you I am in no hurry," she retorted gaily. "I quite like this. It is the real thing; whilst my uncle's camps are just civilization imposing itself on the wilderness."

Breakfast finished, they struck camp, launched the canoe and began to paddle upstream. The current was strong, and their progress slow, but after some three hours they arrived at the junction of the two rivers. Then Stane asked a question.

"Which way did you come, Miss Yardey? Down the main stream or the other one?"

The girl looked towards the meeting of the waters doubtfully. "I do not know," she said. "I certainly do not remember coming through that rough water."

"Your uncle's party had of course traveled some way since I left Fort Malsun?"

"Oh yes; we had made long journeys each day and we were well on our way to—wait a moment. I shall remember the name—to old Fort Winagot."

KNOW Thy Self

PREVENTING HEADACHES.

People who fly for a headache remedy, at onset, and keep it up year after year are surely on the wrong track in the pursuit of health. Trying to cure a headache without giving any attention to its cause, is like trying to put out a fire by shutting off the water supply.

The chief causes of headache come within a well defined limit. The so-called nervous headache, or hysterical attacks, lead all other causes, real or imaginary.

Probably headache from digestive troubles might come second. Imaginary or "bluff" headache would come in a good third. As the also-ran causes, we have a group almost as numerous as all the parts and organs of the human body could furnish.

To give yourself a vacation from headache, carefully take stock of your daily habits and work and then see if real health habits can't accomplish more than the "rescue" cures.

The greatest preventive to that daily headache is to know your own condition thoroughly. If you strain your eyes by overwork at night or in poor light during the day, a headache is liable to come your way.

The daily breathing of air contaminated with gasoline fumes, or other gases that attack the nasal membranes, will cause a dull throbbing headache. PPoor circulation in many persons, especially those who refuse to take any exercise, causes headache. To prevent this class of attacks, take a bath every day and instead of a regimen of exercises that will make the blood tingle.

Headaches common to women, who claim pelvic disease or female trouble as a cause, usually result from incorrect posture. Learn to eat, stand, sit and walk correctly and many of your headaches will vanish like mist before the morning sun.

Asks Anniversary of Boston Tea Party

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 20.—Commemoration by the people of Illinois of the Boston Tea Party, the 150th anniversary of which falls on Dec. 16, 1923, was asked by Governor Small today.

The governor expressed his wish that public schools of the state conduct suitable exercises in observance of the day.

"Its inception and successful carrying out was due to the courageous assertion of their rights by the people of Boston and the date is well worthy of celebration," the governor said.

Governor Small's suggestion followed an invitation extended to Illinois by the Yorktown Memorial Institute.

"INVESTORS" PAY OVER BILLION FOR FRAUDULENT STOCK

NEA and Telegraph Send Investigator to Texas
Oil Fields.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Before you buy an oil stock, investigate. This warning wasn't heeded by thousands of persons in parts of the United States when they received alluring literature of irresponsible oil companies operating in and around Port Worth, Texas. They bought—and now the federal authorities are investigating. To date, 40 have been convicted or pleaded guilty to fraud charges.

The result is the most amazing story of swindling uncovered in the history of the postal inspection service. Old and young, poor persons and folks in moderate circumstances all over America, listened to the promises of gigantic returns and easy fortunes—only to lose all they invested.

In the hope of protecting our readers from similar misfortune, the Evening Telegraph and NEA Service sent Roy Gibbons, NEA Service writer to Port Worth to make an investigation for the folks at home. This is the first of a series of stories by Gibbons; stories every man, woman and child in Dixon should read and heed.

METHODS USED CHANGING NAMES

This involves nothing but a simple operation whereby the promoter would christen his oil stock by some different and high-sounding phrase. For example, he would no longer call it stock, but, probably, units, royalty, rights, plan royalties, blocks, mineral deeds, interest and gusher rights. All of course mean the same thing at law. But the promoter wanted the public to believe he had something different to offer, and discovered that whenever he changed the brand of his wares his sales jumped by leaps and bounds. The only thing he had to do was be first to change to the new name and then hang onto it until it was played out.

BY ROY J. GIBBONS
NEA Service Writer

Ft. Worth, Tex.—Never before in all the history of "come-on" games has so monstrous and conscienceless a piece of fraud been perpetrated on the American public, as here by flimflam oil promotion artists.

When I say this, I do so unequivocally and without fear of warranted contradiction for the following reasons:

That my statements are reinforced by voluminous testimony and evidence in possession of the federal government.

That I have drawn an unbiased conclusion from first-hand investigation of the facts in a survey just completed for NEA Service and the Telegraph, which sent me here to get the truth to protect its readers against future fraud schemes.

Government investigators estimate that $1,250,000,000 has been paid in by investors since fake oil promoters started operating in Texas. They estimate that the total capitalization of these companies will aggregate two billions of dollars.

This estimate includes the operations now under investigation and others dating back over a period of several years.

All the Rufus Wallingfords and get-rich-quick men that ever ventured in the lane of frenzied finance were as mere pikers compared with these who lured victims who could ill afford to lose, into their camouflaged traps.

High government officials who have spent lifetimes in pursuit of suave shysters using the mails to defraud, make bland admission that this is the truth and further admit that even they are dumfounded at the enormity of the operations.

Holding aloft a snaring vision of golden fleece which they promised to cheer for their trusting, gullible investors from profits in wells never sunk, or else purposely drilled past oil level production, these vulture-promoters turned fleece themselves.

The scant teacups of oil they produced with the vast sums duped from an unwary public, made the oil cost something like $5000 a barrel. This is the estimate of government accountants who have checked the swindle operations.

Something for nothing, or a lot for a little was their particular stock in trade.

By means of high-power, flamboyant literature, advertisements and misleading circulars, they bombarded the country with a cloudburst of rosy promises mostly built upon veiled misrepresentations and day dreams of finding oil.

Mention of the name of that sticky, black fluid was as a magic spell which called for entrance into meager purses.

From start to finish it was the poor man's Waterloo. The rich, never needy of far-flung opportunity for gain were immune from the oil promoter's wiles by very reason of their financial state.

Only the money hoarded away in stocking and pantry creak against a rainy day poured into the oil promotional coffers.

And behind each offering stunted for and sacrificed, were widows and orphans, the lame, the halt, the blind, aged and the feeble and even disabled war veterans, all hoping to make up for former misfortune in one jump to moneyed ease.

They parted with their Liberty bonds in trusting confidence. Then they mortgaged their homes, as hundreds of cases testify, to satisfy the appetites of the promoters who batted their prey on to further misery with telegraphic followups to the literature already sent.

At the time of this writing, some 40 of these promoters have either been tried or else pleaded guilty and been given prison terms.

Of the 92 persons indicted as conspirators in the swindle plot at the first meeting of the grand jury, many have yet to be arraigned.

An army of postal inspectors—as many as are usually distributed over a postal district of three or more states—sent here upon orders from Washington is now going over the investigation of a prospective list of some 400 additional promotional enterprises.

Some scope of the oil swindle ring will be gained by picturing the countless truckloads of questionable oil promotion literature which were dumped daily into the postal inspection offices here when the probe first started.

Tons and tons of it were gathered. So much has accumulated that the inquiry division now occupies almost half a floor in one of Ft. Worth's modern skyscrapers.

All of it in lurid pictures and by honeyed word promised rivers of oil. But what really came of these promises were rivers of tears and teacups of oil as we shall see in later chapters of this series.

(Copyright, 1923, by NEA Service.)

WHAT'S GOING ON IN THE WORLD

Chief Events of the Week Briefly Told Germany—France—England—Greece

BY CHARLES P. STEWART,
NEA Service Writer.

With the ex-crown prince back home and the exiled ex-kaiser reported about to join him, the world's wondering if there's going to be an attempt to put the Hohenzollerns on the German throne again.

Germany hints she's going to break the peace treaty, so far as France is concerned. She says France broke it by seizing the Ruhr and the Rhineland—why shouldn't she break it too? What she means is to stop even talking about paying war damages to France.

Germany proposes also to abandon the Ruhr and the Rhineland—to let them go, as lost to her, for the present. Her idea's to make France support her inhabitants. France would like to have them permanently independent, as "buffer" countries between herself and Germany. But Germany plans to get them back later.

WORSE TO COME?

France's counter-threat is to extend the Ruhr and Rhineland seizure, including the important German railroad center, Frankfurt; also to seize the great German seaport, Hamburg, especially its shipping and custom-house.

This threat greatly upsets the English. They say the Hamburg seizure would be the last thing needed to destroy the Anglo-French wartime friendship. Italy is alarmed also. So are business men in the United States.

URGES TARIFF WALL

Premier Baldwin wants a tariff wall around England, for nearly a century free trade's stronghold.

To see if his country agree, Baldwin's called a national election, Dec. 6th.

If the country does agree, he'll get another Conservative majority in Parliament and protection will be its slogan. If not, he'll lose his present majority and a free trade premier will succeed him.

After the Conservatives, the Laborites are the strongest English parliamentary group. They hoped to win the next election but didn't expect one so soon. Perhaps the time for a Labor victory isn't ripe yet.

The Liberals, who are free traders, were outclassed by both Conservatives and Laborites last year, but this was partly because of a party split. They may unite to defend free trade.

GREEK THRONE SHAKY

King George of Greece, at his adviser's suggestion, is about to take a vacation outside the country. It's predicted a republic will be declared as soon as he goes.

WRITING HIS MESSAGE

President Coolidge is writing his message to the Congress which meets in December. His chances for nomination in 1924, politicians agree, will depend largely on the hit this message makes with the country.

Do you know that during the first eight months of this year 181 manufacturers report they have built 2,689,837 automobiles and trucks.

With the 14,000,000 cars licensed in the United States and over 3,000,000 million cars and trucks being manufactured each year, do you realize what it means to the CITY where the BEMENT POSITIVE DRIVE DIFFERENTIAL IS MADE? Even if only FIVE per-cent of the cars are equipped with it.

Men prominent in the automotive industry, say that, in three years EIGHTY per-cent of the cars driven will be equipped with THIS DEVICE. Figure it out how many MEN will be needed to manufacture the DIFFERENTIAL to supply the demand.

NEW EQUIPMENT IS INSTALLED TO AID
DIXON TELEGRAPH*Five Linotype Machines
Now Needed in Composing Room.

Readers and advertisers will be interested to know that the Evening Telegraph now has installed and in operation new mechanical equipment costing in excess of $25,000, which adds materially to the efficiency and service the Telegraph is able to give its patrons.

The new equipment includes three linotype typesetting machines, a Melio press, a Kelly automatic press, power paper cutter, stitching and stapling machines, new all-steel modern imposing stones, etc.

Using Five Linotypes.
Over half of the investment is represented by the three new typesetting machines, which are of the latest development for the setting of advertising, job and reading type. Added to the typesetting equipment previously in use in The Telegraph office, we now have a battery of five of the modern machines. There are two Model 14 linotypes, two Model 8 linotypes and one Linotype. They allow the setting of all sizes of type from six point up to the big display and head-letter type. All of the "heads" in the Telegraph are now set by machine.

Is Big Improvement.
This big battery of type-setting machines permits the composition of a great amount of news type for the reading public without limiting the ability of the composing room to handle advertising and job work. The many new fonts of advertising and job type give a valuable service to the advertiser and buyer of job printing, not only in the added facilities for handling the work but in the clean, new type and the improved typographical appearance of the finished work.

The type faces on linotype product are used but once and the metal is "thrown in" and melted over, so that new type is cast for each press run and clean, clear printing results.

Job Plant Upstairs.
Crowded conditions have made more room imperative, and so the entire second floor of the Telegraph building, which was formerly used for office rooms, has been cleared out and the Telegraph job department has been moved to the second floor.

The new Melio job press, a large machine capable of the finest book work, color work, etc., and the Kelly Automatic Press, a wonderful little jobber built for fine work and high speed, self-feeding, together with a battery of three Gordon presses, a great quantity of new job type and other printing equipment, brings the Telegraph job department up to the highest standard, equipped for any kind of job work of the highest grade.

All of this added equipment was purchased last spring, installed in this office during the summer and is now in full operation.

Anyone interested is always welcome to visit the plant and watch the various operations of printing a newspaper.

Modern electric trolley was patented Jan. 18, 1892.

PARTY MAY 30th*Combination of Sever-

By Associated Press Special Wire
Chicago, Nov. 20.—The third party movement, set under way here by a meeting of representative political organizations, was given tangible form today for a national convention to be held at either Minneapolis or St. Paul May 30 to name presidential and vice presidential candidates in the name of the progressive party, farmer-labor party or such other names as the third party voters may have established in their states.

Those attending the gathering here pledged themselves "that the calling of this convention shall be based on the abolition of special privilege." They described special privileges as a meaning "that the unjust economic advantage by possession of which a small group controls our national resources, transportation, industry and credit, stifles competition, prevents opportunity from development of all and thus dictates conditions under which we live."

The platform of principles set forth by the meeting called among other things for "public control of natural resources by taxation of all land values public ownership of railroads, canals and pipe lines; governmental banking, by which the government shall enter the banking system, reserving to itself the sole right to issue currency and to determine the amount of currency which may be issued and equal rights, economic, legal and political, for all citizens, and all civil rights, including free speech, free press and peaceable assembly as guaranteed by the constitution."

The conference decided to support in South Dakota and elsewhere, the efforts of established farmer-labor organizations.

THINKS PRICE OF RADIO APPARATUS
ARTIFICIALLY HIGH*Editor of Radio News
Comments on Year's
Developments.*BY H. GERNSBACH
(Editor of Radio News)

In reviewing the year just passed, we must admit that no great and radical changes have come about, either in the radio art itself or in the trade. Last year, just about this time, the trade was recovering from a tremendous slump, the aftermath of all booms, be they in radio or oil. The year just passed has been rather a sober one and it has kept us busy cleaning up the wreckage left over by the radio boom which started off early in 1922 and which created the situation that was unparalleled, not only in the radio industry, but in any other industry. The radio boom was responsible for a tremendous expansion of the radio industry, when the manufacturers were only concerned with one thing and that was production. We have not entirely recovered from the radio boom as yet due to the frenzied rush in order to get out material which was poor and thrown on the market, thousands of people, still have a grudge against everything and anything connected with radio.

The year just passed has witnessed one very important phase and that is the price of nearly all classes of radio merchandise has receded from the 1922 artificial high level. Manufacturers have learned a lesson that it is possible to make more money by selling goods for less than selling merchandise at a high cost and get a few sales that are expensive in the end. Speeding up the production brings undreamed of savings. This, however, is not always immediately apparent to everyone and it reminds me of the story of the widow whose husband had invented a tire valve used on automobile tires which is now practically used on all standard makes of tires. At first when she tried it out with a big tire manufacturer, she insisted that she receive 50c royalty on every tire put out. The first year she received something like $800. One day a representative from the tire people came in to see her and showed her that by reducing the royalty to 5c on every tire, she would probably get $500 the next year. This proposition did not appeal to her but she finally agreed to take $5000 flat for the next year, no matter how many tires the manufacturer sold. This was agreed upon but what the good woman did not know was that if she had accepted the 5c proposition instead of the flat price, she would have received close to $20,000 instead of $5000.

Prices Too High
I am not an advocate of selling goods for nothing. But I do believe that most of the radio material that has been sold during the past year, was sold at an artificially high figure. What are the results? Big discounts are given to the trade which immediately invites cut prices by the less reliable section of the trade. A lower list price with a fair discount rather than the upholding of the list price and such a policy is not liable to play havoc with a manufacturer as does the high list price.

The year passed has also witnessed some simplification in the construction of radio sets. I believe the biggest single mistake of the radio industry today is that we insist to force upon the public outfits that the average man cannot operate. I doubt that there are five people in a hundred who can operate a modern set that has from five controls upwards, with simple printed directions. It simply cannot be done. Radio will not be popular as is the phonograph until we have learned to build our sets with a single control. There are such sets on the market today and they are eminently successful for that reason. Your wife, your sister, and your daughter cannot operate complicated sets. And for what good reason should they be deprived of listening in to radio any time they wish to do so? Most of the time they have to wait until the male member of the family comes home in order to operate the set. This, of course, is all wrong and we should rectify it just as quickly as possible. The single control outfit is coming as sure as the sun will rise tomorrow. It is simply a matter for the engineer plus a little courage to do so.

Hits Loud Speaker
Another thing that is holding back and has held back the full development of radio last year, is the loud speaker. I am not on the war-path against the loud speaker for the reason that I own a number of patents myself on various loud-speakers and I am, therefore, just as much to blame as the next one. But the trouble with a loud speaker today is that the majority of them chase away sales instead of making them. Time and again, I have seen people standing in front of a store listening to some of those atrocious, otherwise called radio horns, when it was impossible for the bystander to understand a single word. I have actually heard people say, "If this is radio, save me from it." Of course, not all loud-speakers are bad, but I should say that 80% of them are, while the other 20% do not reproduce spoken words for instance, faithfully, and in some of my past editorials, I have often made the remark that a horn on a loud-speaker is a monstrosity. Any expert in acoustics will tell you that the minute you put a horn on anything that produces sounds, you will have distortion immediately. In a cornet used in a brass band, the distortion does not matter, but if you put a horn to your mouth, I admit that you get volume but your voice becomes distorted as well. Everyone who ever handled a megaphone knows this. But why must we have horns? Take for instance the cricket. The cricket produces a sound that is easily heard a mile. He produces the sound by rubbing his belly. The total surface from which the sound is .1 of 1" produced is perhaps less than 1" square. Still the cricket does not require a horn to be heard. The nightingale, or for that matter any singing bird, can be heard for half a mile without trouble. Evidently the birds can get along very well without a horn. When you yourself speak or sing, you do not require a horn to make yourself heard, and as you hear me speaking now, I do not require the use of a megaphone to be heard. This is the same with the loud speaker. One of these days, some one will sit down and read up on acoustics and then will turn out a loud-speaker that requires no horn at all. When this day arrives, we will be able to really enjoy radio and the trade will get tremendous benefits from such an invention.

While many instruments have been standardized during the past year, still I doubt very much if during the next ten years the radio trade will have dwindled down to complete sets only being made. A lot of people are asking me continuously if I do not think that sooner or later the radio business would dwindle down to selling sets only, the same as phonographs are sold today.

To Use One's Wits
Personally, I do not believe that this stage will ever come about. Radio is the only thing that calls for using one's wits and Americans are born tinkers and born inventors. Tens of thousands of people are using radio as a hobby and love to make their own sets. Indeed, I have a banker friend who has constructed no less than eighteen sets, anyone of which any manufacturer would be proud to turn out. Indeed today 80% of all the output in radio material is parts while only 20% is complete sets. I am quite certain that this condition will prevail for many years to come.

This leads me to another thought that is of importance to the radio dealer. Eighty per cent of the radio public today are making their own sets. Go into any radio store and see what happens. People coming in and asking the salesman behind the counter thousands upon thousands of questions. Nine times out of ten, the salesman behind the counter does not know himself, or a vague answer is given, or the clerk who does know is so busy that he finds not time to answer the questions intelligently. The radio public buying parts is certainly entitled to some information, otherwise it is going to hurt, and is hurting the trade.

Now there seems to be such a simple expedient to rectify such a situation that it is surprising to see that nothing has been done along these lines right along. Let us take the average radio store with three clerks behind the counter. People are standing in line, maybe two or three deep ready to be waited upon. A young boy comes along and asks for a hook-up. The clerk must now stop for the next ten minutes and draw a hook-up. In the meanwhile, a few impatient customers walk out and go to another store. Can't the proprietor of such a store figure out how much it costs him to have his clerks answer technical questions, drawing hook-ups, and giving all sorts of other radio information? Why not do the thing right and hire a young man who knows all about radio, give him a desk in the rear of the store and let him answer the questions to everyone free of charge. I'll wager that such a store will be most popular in the neighborhood. Incidentally, the man behind the desk who answers the questions can see to it that the customer buys the recommended articles in the store. This would keep the salesmen occupied 100% of their time in selling goods and if any clerk were asked radio questions he would courteously direct him to the radio information desk. Such a man can be obtained for from $30 to $40 per week and he will earn his salary three and four times over.

Your grocer now has 2 styles of Quaker Oats—QUICK QUAKER and regular Quaker Oats, the kind you've always known.

For a hot breakfast quick, ask for QUICK QUAKER.

Cooks in half the time of coffee—scarcely longer than simple toasted bread.

Same plump oats as regular Quaker Oats. But cut before flaking, rolled very thin and partly cooked—smaller flakes that cook faster, that's the only difference.

All that rare Quaker flavor. All the joy of hot breakfasts without bother or delay.

EXHIBIT ANTIQUES AT ROCHELLE WAS OF REAL INTEREST

Display of Old-Fashioned Articles of Educational Value.

Rochelle—Of splendid historical and educational interest, the Old-Fashioned exhibit, held in the Presbyterian church from Wednesday through Friday, was an unqualified success. A vast amount of treasured possessions was freely loaned and the museum stirred memories of the past that caused many a heart to beat faster. The exhibit was sponsored by the November-December division of the Ladies Aid Society and was under the direction of Mesdames R. C. Brundage and Kittler.

Some of the exhibits were:

Minute book of the Presbyterian church from April 9, 1871.

A copy of The New York Herald's edition of Saturday, April 15, 1865, giving the news of the death of Lincoln; also a copy of a confederate newspaper printed on wall paper.

China, Ware—delft ware sugar bowl over 100 years old. Copper luster cream pitcher brought from England in 1886 when very old. Rose luster mug bearing inscription and containing a frog figure inside, over 150 years old. Tea pot, sugar bowl and cream pitcher over 130 years old, decorated with the rose, the thistle and shamrock, emblem of England, Scotland and Ireland.

Wearing apparel—baby cap worn by Rhoda Jane Jones, great grand aunt of the Southworth children, over a 100 years old. Wedding bonnet of Mrs. George Guest's grandmother, 1819, also her grandmother's wedding slippers.

The Family Album, a home talent sketch conceived and produced by young people of the church in connection with the exhibit on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, was enthusiastically received and exquisitely presented.

The sketch deals with the reminiscence of an old couple, who on the morrow will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Father (James Morgan) sits reading his paper and mother (Mrs. A. M. Zimmerman) darns stockings. Events and characters of the fifty year span are recalled as they draw up their chairs and thumb over the old family album as "When You and I Were Young Maggie" is sung back stage.

The first picture is that of the wedding photograph. Mr. Kingma in Mr. Rae's wedding coat, knee breeches and side burns of the day and Mrs. Mrs. J. Ralph Brown radiant in Mrs. Emanuel Hill's wedding gown are presented. They sing the duet, "I Love You Truly," and Mrs. Brown sings, "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," and "Just a Song at Twilight."

The second picture was that of Aunt Tilda and Uncle Ezra, rusties, played by Miss Helen Jones and Stewart Jewell. They sang "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet."

Miss Jones wore a handsome gown of Mrs. Orlando Reeds.

Aunt Mary's girls was admirably portrayed by Misses Beinfang and Daubenspeck and Mrs. Roy Cratty. Mrs. Cratty wore Mrs. Rae's wedding dress of 1843. Mrs. Rae was the grandmother of Mrs. Blaser. Miss Beinfang wore Miss Minnie Cobb's gown and Miss Daubenspeck a gown of Mrs. Jeannette Guardhouse.

The country cousins introduced

Messrs. Bruce Haselton and Stewart Jewell, who sang, "Huckle Berry Finn," "School Days," and "Treckles."

A minuet scene presented Miss Frances Wehl and Mrs. Jackson and Messrs. Kingma and Guhl. Mrs. R. C. Brundage as Aunt Mary sang, "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

The scene closes with the father and mother commenting on a happy evening and retiring with the anticipation of the gathering home of the children for dinner in the morning.

Mrs. Zimmerman and Mr. Morgan displayed marked ability in their parts and the music and acting was superb throughout. The sketch was directed by Mrs. J. M. Weeks and Mrs. L. W. Masters. The exhibit adding added to the scenic effects. The characters were disclosed by a lighting effect as the album was opened by Miss Elizabeth Adams. Mrs. Weeks played the accompaniments. Property by the Unger Furniture Co.

Other gowns worn in the style show were Miss Jeannette Guardhouse wore another one of Mrs. Reeds' handsome gowns. Miss Lucy Lake wore Mrs. Harriett Smith's gown. A gown from the trousseau of Mrs. Emmanuel Hill worn by Mrs. Brown won the popularity contest and the basket of roses.

Claude Clinite, Butte, Montana, Floyd Clinite, Redfield, N. D., and Harold Clinite, of Chicago, were called here last week by the serious illness of their father, Ellis Clinite. Claude Clinite returned home Friday noon. Ellis Clinite is somewhat unimproved in health.

Mrs. Mary Valle went to Chicago, Saturday, returning Tuesday evening. Mrs. John E. Countryman returned Wednesday from an extended visit in New York state.

W. F. Landon was in Chicago on business Thursday.

The new paving on Lincoln avenue from the west city limits to Eleventh street was opened up for traffic Saturday.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

PARTS OF AN INFINITE FLOW.

I wonder how many or how few there are in this age of Bible skepticism and "New Thought," who recognize the outstanding fact, that the methods and extent of modern travel are the literal fulfillments of Scriptural predictions, and which sets the seal of Divine inspiration and prophecy on all other Biblical prophecies as well?

Quite a number of years ago, before the Wright Bros had demonstrated the practicability of heavier than air machines, I remarked to a friend that I believed the time would come when people would travel in the air as well as on land, and he gently suggested that I had better have my head examined, and the more emphatically when I told him that my belief was founded on a Biblical prophetic sentence of just six words, to-wit: "They shall run like the lightning."—Nahum 24.

Well, how about it now? Let's first analyze those words and get their real meaning. "They," conveyances. "Shall," imperative, sure. "Run," rapid movement, utmost speed. "Like," resemblance, similarity. "Lightning," an electric flash located in the air above the earth.

Now then, when a material object occupies the location of lightning, self-supporting and moving therein under its own power at a rate of speed exceeding that of any other like object, and potentially unlimited, it does in a comparative sense run like the lightning and can be justly compared thereto through absolute lack of any other available standard comparison.

Our airplanes are now filling that bill, and we can reasonably expect yet, features of still stronger resemblance.

In this connection, in the same book and chapter of Nahum, in latter part of 3d verse and all of 4th, there is a description, or forecasting of the development in its successive stages and consecutive order of the means and methods of modern locomotion, clearly indicating rail, motor car, and airplane, finally culminating as shown by the fulfilled prediction of Daniel 12: 4, as follows:

"Many shall run to and fro," and so, making good, there are millions hurrying in hot haste in every possible direction, on land and sea, in air, and even under the sea, a veritable manner for traveling as it is this day.

For over 6,000 years this old world has jogged along quite contentedly in the same old stage coach, not until within the last century it has jumped the track, and is now running increasingly wild along those prophetic lines, thus filling out the acts in the pre-arranged program written nearly 3,000 years ago and not one has failed.

Well, He said it would be so, and what He says goes.

J. L. POTTER.

TOBACCO AND CHRISTIANS.

The tobacco user is a false guidepost to the young. Like a false guidepost, he points the wrong direction and will lead many innocent boys astray.

Tobacco users are a stench in the nostrils of clean people. That being true, we fear they are also a stench in the nostrils of a pure and holy God.

How much, better is the preacher who does not condemn tobacco than his parishioner who uses it? One gives consent by silence, the other by example.

If tobacco using Christians are clean, why should special cars be provided for them on the railroads, to separate them from the ladies—and gentlemen?

It is the duty of the Christian to "go on unto perfection." The use of tobacco is at least not a virtue but generally admitted to be a bad habit. Can a Christian honestly and conscientiously claim to be striving toward higher and better things, and still cling to his tobacco?

Even the perfection of a good moral character demands abstinence from tobacco. "Touch not the unclean thing." If we are to touch not, what will become of the soul that chews or smokes until the whole body is polluted with poison?

"God shall bring every work into judgment." The tobacco habit is condemned even by those addicted to it. It will not stand in the judgment.

There isn't a single good reason for the use of tobacco, but many reasons why it should be used. The habit is as utterly defenseless as the liquor habit, both leading to immorality and the lower things of life.

"Be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord." That applies to the efficiency of the church as well as the ministry. The church that does not require its members to abstain from tobacco might as well not require it of its ministry.

FALL WHEAT IN STATE HAS GOOD START; REPORT

Corn Husking is One-third Completed in Illinois.

Springfield—Corn husking made good progress, fall wheat had an excellent start, and despite rains during the first part of the month, weather has been favorable for advancement of all farm work, according to A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician, in his semi-monthly government crop report for November, for Illinois.

"Corn husking is one-third finished, which is less than usual but is making fair progress except where corn is down," Mr. Surratt's report said.

"There is some chaffy corn in the northern area but yields are favorable as a rule. Quality, especially in the central area, is affected by much down corn."

"Winter wheat seeding is completed. Early sown wheat is showing up unusually well. Less than the usual amount of wheat has been marketed to date, but the reserves on farms are not relatively large. Shipments during the past two weeks show a decline. Indications are for a decreased acreage this fall."

"Farm reserves of hay are moderate. Market movement this month has been about normal. Pastures and young clover are in unusually good condition. Yield of cloverseed is light on a greatly decreased acreage."

"Apple harvesting has ended and the crop, especially the commercial portion, is better than expected. Quality was high on the average, though considerable culling has been necessary due to disease damage. Coloring is excellent.

"Pear shipments are 60 percent of those of last year for the same period. White potatoes are the largest crop since 1918 with the highest average yield since 1915. Quality is well above the average. Sweet potatoes have yielded well with fair quality."

"The general condition of livestock is good except for considerable hog cholera. Cholera is being brought under control, but losses have been quite heavy in a few localities in the

THREE PARTIES IN SO. DAKOTA PICK DELEGATES

Henry Ford May Draw Place if He Will Accept Honor.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 20.—On each of the sixty-nine South Dakota counties today, republican, democratic and farmer-labor conventions met to select delegates to the three state proposal conventions at Pierre Dec. 4. The state's political meanings will be disclosed by the instructions, if any, given county proposal men.

It was believed that the republican race had narrowed down to Senator Hiram Johnson of California and President Coolidge, with several influential republican office holders favoring the progressive views of the favorite son.

The two great factions in the democratic party are understood to favor the nomination of W. G. McAdoo, yet a third group is boosting for Henry Ford, although no announcement of his candidacy has been authorized.

The hardest fight is expected to be between adherents of Ford and Senator Robert LaFollette of Wisconsin, in the farmer-labor conventions. Leaders of this party, which grew out of the old non-partisan league movement believe that with Ford as their standard bearer they can sweep the state.

Ford's name will get at least second place on all three ballots, under a provision of the primary law which permits any five delegates to a state proposal convention to nominate a minority candidate.

The uncertainty that exists here as to whether Ford would accept a nomination caused great concern among his adherents and a controversy arose over the point. The law requires each person nominated to give a written acceptance of the nomination by January 1, to go on the ballot. Political leaders were shy of naming Ford unless some assurance could be obtained that he would accept the nomination and not leave their respective tickets headless.

LEE CO. FARM BUREAU NOTES

REWARD OFFERED BY I. A. A.
FOR T. B. CATTLE BOOTLEGGERS

The Lee County Farm Bureau has received notification that the Illinois Agricultural Association offers a reward of $100 on the first conviction in each county for violation of state or national law or regulation, prohibiting the importation of tuberculosis cattle into Illinois.

Numerous reports coming to the I. A. A. clearly indicate that many tuberculous cattle are being smuggled into the state without regard for law. This is especially true on the northern border.

President Sam Thompson of the I. A. A., in making announcement of the reward, stated that it is given on provision that county farm bureaus offer a similar amount, making a total of $200 for conviction of the first offender apprehended in each county.

This matter of reward has not yet come up before the Lee County Farm Executive Committee for action but will be taken up at the December meeting.

At a meeting in Chicago of I. A. A. officials, farm advisers of northern Illinois, and others interested, it was brought out that millions of dollars have been made by bootleggers of tuberculous cattle, that they are powerful and unscrupulous, and are not going to give up willingly.

"The I. A. A. asked that the appropriation of a million dollars be made by the state to indemnify farmers for tuberculous cattle tested under state or federal supervision," said Geo. A. Fox, secretary of the Association. "And it is now up to farmers to support our laws and regulations so that it will be spent to good advantage."

That it is a state-wide problem is indicated by the fact that Boards of Supervisors have appropriated money to clean tuberculous out of herds in 42 Illinois counties.

RADIO PROGRAM SCHEDULED.

The regular Tuesday evening Farm Bureau radio programs from Station KYW, Chicago, at 8:01 p. m., are as follows for the next three weeks.

Nov. 20, "The Transportation Knot," by C. E. Hutchings, Secy. of the National Transportation Institute.

"The Nation's Food Supply," by R. C. Pollock, Managing Director of the National Live Stock & Meat Board.

November 27—"Cooperative Marketing of Wheat," by Walter Petzet, Marketing Director, American Farm Bureau Federation.

"Farm Films," by D. O. Thompson of Homestead Films Co.

December 4—"The Farm Problem An International Problem," by C. T. Crofton, Manager of Savanna Produce Station.

"Farm Bureau Service to a Community," by J. W. Coverdale, Secretary of American Farm Bureau Federation.

The American Farm Bureau Federation which arranges for these programs reports that letters from farmers in all parts of the United States indicate that thousands are tuning in on the program.

Millionaires Are Warned By Judge

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Nov. 20.—Witnesses who evade or fail to answer questions regarding dissolution of the Grommes-Ullrich Liquor Co., are liable to prosecution for perjury or contempt, Judge Evans has indicated.

Judge Evans' statement was made after several millionaires brokers and business leaders testified to the delivery of the liquor stock of the company to its stockholders after the company was dissolved.

Witnesses yesterday told of the distribution of the liquor stock on last Easter morning when heavily loaded trucks guarded by armed men, left consignments at addresses of stockholders.

The defense has indicated that it will attempt to show the transaction was legal.

Producing morning newspapers containing stories of Federal Judge Evans intimations that forgetfulness by witnesses might result in punishment, Attorney E. W. Everett of the defense in the trial of a dozen defendants charged with conspiracy as a result of the liquor dividends by dissolution, moved to withdraw the jury and continue the case.

Judge Evans denied the motion. Judge Evans then cautioned the jurors who go home nights, that what they may read in the newspapers should have no bearing on their judgment.

Walter Greenbaum, cashier of the Greenbaum Bank & Trust Co., and C. W. Murphy, former owner of the Chicago National League club, told of buying stock in the reorganized firm and of liquor being sent them.

Fight for G. O. P. Floor Leader Sure

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Nov. 20.—Republicans of the next house face the likelihood of a vigorous contest over the election of a floor leader to succeed former Representative Mondell of Wyoming, despite efforts of some to avoid such a fight for fear it might threaten party unity.

Announcement of the candidacy of Representative Graham of Illinois in opposition to Representative Long worth of Ohio, for the floor leadership jolted the hopes of avoiding a contest. Representative Graham's decision to oppose selection of the son-in-law of former President Roosevelt was made known last night after he had held a conference with about a dozen representatives who have been urging him to seek the leadership at the republican organization conference Dec. 1.

A vigorous campaign will be made, said the announcement, through Mr. Graham's candidacy to assure that the "great agricultural and progressive west shall be duly represented in the organization of the house."

New Congress Will Receive Treaties

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Nov. 20.—Added to the legislative burden of the next congress is to be the presentation to the senate of several new treaties, for whose reception arrangements have been made by President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes with Chairman Lodge of the senate foreign relations committee.

With the Harding proposal for American participation in the World

Court already before the senate, the new treaties include:
The treaty of Lausanne between the United States and Turkey, re-establishing relations with Turkey.

The Mexican treaty which paved the way for recognition by the United States of the Obregon government.
The Hughes-Carson treaty extending shore limits of American operations against rum runners.

STATE BACKWORD IN FUNDAMENTALS OF HEALTH SERVICE

State Department Issues Bulletin on Health Affairs.

Springfield, Nov. 21 — Compared with other ranking states (and many smaller ones) Illinois is at the bottom of the ladder which leads to adequate funds and organization of the promotion of maternity, infant and child hygiene according to a statement issued here today by Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state director of health, who declares that service along these lines is fundamental to public health. In an effort to offset this situation as far as possible the state department of health has completed plans and is now carrying out a program to stimulate the establishment of local organizations at local expense to function in this important field.

"Two teams consisting of a physician and nurse" said the director, "are already in the field. Their purpose is to accomplish three things at points where they do not already exist. These are the establishment of health centers for mothers and children, the establishment of health inspection of school children and the adoption and enforcement of a safe milk ordinance. All three are fundamental to public health and all three are woefully lacking in Illinois, particularly in the smaller cities and rural districts. Neither funds nor organization in this state are anything like as extensive or adequately provided for as they are in other states with comparable population and in many instances with much smaller populations.

"Health centers for promoting maternity and infant hygiene is the outstanding public health need of the state and nation. Such centers provide an authoritative source where mothers and prospective mothers can secure the best available advice and information relative to the scientific medical care of themselves and children and thereby avoid the dangers and tragedies that so often result from listening to old wives' tales and clothe-line gossip.

"Closely associated with the health center is the problem of safe milk. Every growing child needs an adequate supply of milk, but to produce life and health, that milk must be pure and safe. To guarantee the safety of municipality it has no better practical means at its disposal than to require proper pasteurization of all milk offered for sale within its jurisdiction. Pasteurization is without question only practical way of adequately safeguarding municipal milk supplies at all times.

"Health inspection of school children is an invaluable public health

America's Favorite Songs

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

No American song better expressed the aspirations of the people at home while "wishing for the war to cease" than the simple ballad "Till We Meet Again."

It possibly possessed too much of the plaintive to be expressive of the me overcast, who usually preferred the rollicking, but its ready acceptance by the people at home made it a permanent favorite.

Harmony Value

The parting of lovers are epitomized in the text is not exclusively that of war time and the song, therefore, means as much today as it did during the war. However, what has made the song live more than its sentimental appeal is the opportunities it offers for impromptu part singing.

Among the pleasantest moments in many a community sing are those in which the crowd, sometimes unaccompanied, improvises its own harmonies in "Till We Meet Again," with the tenor or high soprano part standing out like an obligato. In writing this ballad, Raymond E. Egan and Richard Whiting created a model of musical, wholesome popular songs that was a place among the songs of the people. What is your favorite American song? Send your choice to Kenneth S. Clark, Community Service, 315 Fourth Avenue, New York, as part of a nation-wide vote.

There's a song in the land of the lily Each sweetheart has heard with a sigh: Over the high garden walls each sweet echo falls, As the soldier boy whispers "Good-bye."

Smile the while you kiss me sad adieu, When the clouds roll by I'll come to you. Then the skies will seem more blue, Down in lovers' land, my dearie, Wedding bells will ring so merrily, Every tear will be a memory, So wait and pray each night for me, Till we meet again.

GRIDIRON FACTS

By Billy Evans.

QUESTION—

What are the rights of the captain of a team as to using any of the five middle players of the line, back of the line of scrimmage on the offense? Can the captain shift a player from any of the five middle positions of the line and again return him to his position in the line?

ANSWER—

No player of the five middle positions on the line, center, guard or tackle, has the right to drop back of the line of scrimmage on offense before the ball is put into play, unless he is at least five yards back of the line when the ball is put into play, and the player who ordinarily plays behind the line takes his place in the line of scrimmage. The captain can make such a shift, as the taking of a line man to a position in the backfield if he so desires, but must notify the referee, and the player so shifted cannot again return to one of the middle line positions. However, any of these middle linemen can be merely taken back five yards without consulting the referee, and may later return to his original position in the line. It is only when such a player is shifted to the actual position in the backfield that he cannot again return to the line.

LOS ANGELES

BY DON RYAN

Nea Service Writer

Los Angeles—Harry Lusk is a genial chap with a checkered suit and a habit of patting the hand of the waitress when she brings his coffee. Harry sells oil stocks.

"I thought the jig was up the other day," confided Harry. "The district attorney sent for me. Waiting in the office was a funny little rube with whiskers who had signed up for a block of that Osage Syndicate stuff. The D. A. asked him why he thought the stock was no good."

"I ain't sayin' it's no good," pipes up the little fellow. "But they didn't leave me no literature."

"Believe me, he had 'literature' next day. 'Arm loads of it.'"

The movies attract strange birds. That is why Alfred Lewin, who used to starve as under professor of literature in a Missouri college, now writes scenarios—and eats. But his serfdom has rendered Professor Lewin highly cynical. Recently a friend who came to him in Hollywood mentioned his easy life.

"Life!" exclaimed the professor, hollowly, twirling his Phi Beta Kappa charm. "Life at best is a chronic and fatal disease, ending invariably in death, and occasionally, as in my own case, acutely exacerbated."

Carl Laemmle is lamenting the temperamental outbreaks of one of his leading stars, Joe Martin, the well-known character actor, has become so wrapped up in his work that he refuses to take direction. In a recent scene in which he was making love to Mrs. Joe, who always plays opposite her spouse, the actor so lost himself in the role that a group of visiting school teachers went right back to Michigan and started a big censorship drive.

When asked to do the scene over again with less vigor the temperamental actor ran off the set, shinned up a post, and hanging from a cross-beam by his toe, effectually defied the director. It took an hour to lure him back into his cage.

The board of free-holders is trying to work out a new city charter for Los Angeles, which, like a boy of fourteen, is bursting out at knees and elbows. The elimination of railway grade crossings is one of the important new proposals. Another is a subway to help deflect part of the surging traffic which jams the downtown streets.

Dixon Students at Cornell Make Good

Mt. Vernon, Ia.—(Special)—Dixon students at Cornell College are making good, three of them having recently received the honor of unanimous election to membership in one of the literary societies of the college, and will be initiated soon. Forest Suter has been elected to the Miltonian literary society; Mrs. J. Harold Henning (formerly Miss Ethel Smith, 714 N. Chusa Ave.) has been elected to the Aonian society, and Miss Kathryn Wight has been elected to the Promethian society. Membership in a society is a much-sought honor in student circles at Cornell, since it implies good scholarship and attractive personality on the part of the pledge. The societies take an active part in campus life, and represent a goal toward which every freshman strives during his first year. Mr. Suter, Mrs. Henning and Miss Wright are to be congratulated on their election.

Nine Brothers Win Baseball Pennant for Michigan Town

Coleman, Mich.—To write the line-up of the Coleman baseball team all a scorer is required to do is to put down "Menther" at the top of the column and then jot down eight "ditto" marks beneath.

The Coleman team is all Menther—nine brothers—each a six footer, and there are three others who can pinch hit if needed. Fred Menther, 29 years old, is the father of this baseball team that won its second consecutive district league pennant this year. "Pa" Menther keeps his weather eye on the management of the club, although another son is in active charge. Mr. Menther did not miss a game during the past season, being on hand to see his boys capture 12 and lose three games played in the league that is made up of clubs from Clare, Beaverton, Gladwin, Rosebush, Farewell and Coleman.

Father Menther is proud of his ball-playing sons. Mrs. Menther, mother of the nine players, three other sons and four daughters, says she doesn't know much about the game, but likes to see her boys play and win. Playing on Sundays, as has been the custom in the league, is much against her wishes, however. Another cause for worry is her fear that some of her sons may become "too good" on the home diamond and be lured to the cities by scouts from the big leagues. Mrs. Menther wants her family to remain here and work the 600 acres of farm land that occupies most of the entire family's working hours.

The age range of the brothers is 19 to 36 years. August Menther, the oldest player, is rightfielder; Henry, the "baby," who is 19, plays second base and pitches when brother Joseph, pitcher and captain, needs relief on the mound.

The Coleman team roster is: Jason Menther, 1f.; Joseph, p.; Edward, c.; William, ss.; Fred, 3b.; Floyd, 1b.; Otto, cf.; Henry, 2b. and p.; August, rf., and Frank, Manager.

Fear Impedes Air- craft Development

Chicago.—Airplane manufacturing on a large scale has virtually no encouragement in the United States, it was declared by Major F. L. Martin, Air Service officer of the Sixth Army Corps Area, U. S. A., in an address here at the air transportation conference of U. S. A. Service officers with the National Transportation Institute. Because the aircraft business cannot develop and the American public is afraid to fly, he said, the country is in a dangerous position.

"There is practically no manufacturing concern in this country in a position to go into the production of airplanes or air engines in any quantity today," said Major Martin. "It takes a year to train a pilot. Mortality will be extremely heavy in the first air fight. Replacements of men and material will be approximately 100 per cent.

Wealthy Woman Is Now Editor

"One of the greatest needs is to build up the confidence of the people so they will use the airways. American people will not fly today because they feel it is taking their lives in their hands. Traveling by air is a commonplace purpose in Europe. If the public could understand that the equipment and pilots pass rigid government tests, confidence might be built up so that people would use the airways and would support a program for their extension. Then we could have a live and growing aircraft industry and could produce both ships and pilots in any quantity needed."

GOES BIG AS COACH

Bo McMillin, former star of Centre College, has made a most enviable record in his two years as a football coach. After leaving Centre, McMillin took up his coaching duties at Centenary College, Shreveport, La. In his first year he lost only one game—the Tennessee Medics, made up of many former college stars taking a course in medicine, defeating his team 14 to 0. The only defeat of this year was the recent 14 to 4 trimming handed Centenary in Boston College.

Various Lowly Jobs Worked By Germans to Increase Incomes

Leipzig.—This is a time of by-occupations in Germany. Doctors, lawyers, teachers, professors, scientists, dentists, preachers, government employees and actors who still cling to their old callings are, for the most part, doing something else in their free time to piece out their incomes.

Stock brokerage and money-changing are popular sidelines for professional folk. All sorts of securities are in great demand among persons who wish to get rid of their marks as soon as possible, with the result that there is flourishing business for bond and securities agents, who conduct their business in a more or less secret way. Everybody is dodging taxes, consequently there is a great desire among persons with funds to conceal their wealth.

Many professional men have also become agents for coal dealers. There are many restrictions on the sale of fuel. Consequently it is bootlegged, much as foreign money is.

Manual labor is much better paid than many professions, with the result that men of excellent education are accepting positions as janitors and street-cleaners. One Berlin lawyer who had a lucrative practice before the war is now running a dustcart, and is much happier than may of his associates in the practice of the law who are waiting in idleness for clients to visit them in unheated offices.

Waiters are hard-pressed in their work by students and unemployed men of excellent education who are willing to accept any sort of work which will supply them with nourishing food and a warm place to sleep.

Hotel prices have soared so high that most of the larger hotels have been emptied and their patrons have sought private lodgings to the great delight of women who have large apartments and are glad to get roomers who will pay higher prices than persons who get rooms assigned to them through the housing committees.

PERPETUAL LIGHT AT UNKNOWN POIL'S TOMB

Paris.—The tomb of France's unknown soldier beneath the Arc de Triomphe will become a more impressive symbol of sacrifice with the adoption of the proposal to keep a flame under the arch burning day and night. The unknown soldier's tomb continues as a national shrine and is visited by thousands Sundays and holidays.

In this connection it has been pointed out that time has effaced many memories connected with the war. It is a rare thing to see a war ribbon in a man's buttonhole, while during the first years after the war every winner of a war cross displayed its ribbon.

The home of the chestnut is in the Mediterranean region, where chestnut trees have been cultivated from early times.

Solves Mystery of Birth of Kangaroo

Chicago.—A kangaroo at birth weighs about eight or nine grains, is a trifle more than an inch long and not much thicker than an ordinary lead pencil, according to George F. Morse, Jr., of the Chicago Zoological Society.

How the baby kangaroo was born was until recently a mystery to zoologists, Mr. Morse said, because, being a pouch animal, the actual birth was difficult to witness.

"One day I noticed that one of our kangaroos was acting strangely, so I got the head-keeper to put it in a separate room used for the observation of animals," Mr. Morse declared.

"We watched closely for a long time and finally were rewarded by the appearance of a tiny thing not more than an inch long on the tail of the mother kangaroo. It was a baby."

"We secured it and found it weighed about nine grains. It was an inch and one-sixteenth long and not broader than a lead pencil. It was a perfectly formed kangaroo, with the exception of the hind legs, the matured kangaroos powerful propeller. These developed later as the baby animal grew. The front legs, however, were perfectly formed, and were used by the baby to climb back into the mother's pouch where it remains for a period of seven months."

Latitude and longitude were first determined by Hipparchus of Nice about 162 B. C.

FINED FOR PLAYING MAH JONGG.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malay.—Mah Jongg has taken the United States and Great Britain by storm. But authorities here frown upon it. Eight in.

Chinese, recently arrested for playing it at a private residence, have been fined $5 each. The householder was assessed $350. About $100 was on the table when the police broke and zinc poisoning result from eating the food.

Food should not be allowed to stand for even a short time in a galvanic iron bucket as some of the zinc coating on the bucket may be dissolved and zinc poisoning result from eating the food.

DIXON, ILL.

CONTINUED.

I was perfectly silent, little Marquise. I did not intend to help that woman exploit any of her scandalous thoughts. She ought to know that Jack must have many models and of course they are all pretty girls. If I were to start in being jealous of all the young women who are connected with him in his business I would have nothing else to do except be very miserable.

After a few moments' silence she said, "Have you heard the plot of the play by any chance, Mrs. Prescott?" and before I could answer no, she commenced to tell me a long story about a man who had betrayed a girl and before the baby was born had fallen in love with another girl and married her.

"Isn't it strange," she said to me right here, "that men will do those things and then expect to marry beautiful, virtuous young women? I often wonder if any of us would marry if we could look into the past of the men whose wives we become."

I rather stared up at this, little Marquise, and told her that I felt I had no right to inquire into my husband's past before I married him and she countered with, "Do you also think that he has no right to inquire into yours?"

"Absolutely not."

"But you know all men expect their wives' lives from the candle to marriage to be an open book and if there is one page in it that is marred or creased or wrinkled or blurred, they throw the book aside in favor of a splendid new volume."

"Don't you think that has gone out of fashion, Mrs. Smithson?" I asked.

"Not at all, not at all," she answered. "You will forgive me, won't you, if just for the sake of illustration, I may say that the dear little baby boy who was placed on the step outside this apartment was found to be your own—what do you think your husband would do if the knowledge of this came to him?"

"I don't know. I hope he would be big enough—" I commenced and then I stopped. I knew she wouldn't understand. The expression on her face, however, made me go on. I knew I had gone too far not to do so. "I hope," I repeated, "that if I had loved a man well enough to give myself to him when I was very young and if he had gone out of my life and something had come up that made me understand he was not worthy, and at last I had found another man who did seem worthy and who loved me and married me, I hope he would understand. If in my loneliness and mother love I had contrived a way to have my baby with me, I hope the good God would take pity upon me and never let my husband know, never let him be grieved or me tortured."

"Then, if the case were reversed, you would never want to know, Mrs. Prescott?" she asked.

ILLINOIS FANS TO ESCORT TEAM TO COLUMBUS, O.

Great Crowd to Go to Cheer Illini in Big Game.

Urbana, Ill.—Illinois rooters will follow the fighting Illini to Columbus next week to witness the final battle in the championship campaign. Already 1000 tickets have been sold and it is predicted that another 1000 will be gobbled up this week.

The football squad will depart on Thursday night on the Big Four but the rooters wait until Friday night when two specials on the same rail road are billed, one at 9 o'clock and the other at midnight. The Illinois band of 100 pieces will also embark.

On top of this there will be a big motor car movement. Every student who has a car of any kind is studying road maps. Many football lovers in other towns of the state plan to come here to ride on the specials while others have arranged motor trips.

The Buckeyes expect a big crowd but with seating capacity of 70,000, there are still plenty of seats available. Those who desire to sit with the Illinois rooters may order tickets from Manager Frank H. Beach this week.

Bob Zuppke plans a vigorous drilling of the Illini. They were allowed to take things fairly easy last week although day by day "Zup" increased the practice dose. Illinois regards the Ohio encounter as a stiff one. The Bucks traditionally play their best against the Illini. Dr. Wilce and Zuppke have coached teams which have won an even number of games from each other.

To claim the odd game is the dream of each coach. And Illinois wants to wipe out last year's defeat while the Buckeyes have the memories of 1921 and 1919 to wipe out when the Illini won at Buckeye town.

In Great Britain the women exceed the men by nearly 2,000,000.

FINE SELECTIONS CHRISTMAS GOODS TO BE SHOWN HERE

Dixon Merchants Plan Great Displays for Their Customers.

With only a few weeks between the shoppers and another Christmas, Dixon merchants are setting forth a quality of goods that will tempt the buyers to start operations as soon as possible.

Novelty shops and jewelry stores have a fashionable display already on shelves and in show cases to remind the public of holidays to come. Dry goods stores are importing gift goods and preparing to arrange them prominently.

Merchants Optimistic
Prophets of the business world predict that the 1923 Christmas shopping will exceed anything that has been seen here since the orgy of war-time spending. "Dixon is booming," declared one merchant, "and the business houses are prospering accordingly. We would be greatly disappointed if the business done this year did not greatly exceed the sales made last year."

Until a few years ago it was customary to put off Christmas shopping until after Thanksgiving, but within past few years the season has been extended in the hope of avoiding the Christmas rush which has made the holiday buying a penalty rather than a pleasure.

People are beginning to take advantage of this foresightedness and do it early. One local store handling toys reports a number of large orders already delivered.

Jewelry and artware of exquisite loveliness have also attracted some of the discerning buyers who wish to make a selection before the stock is depleted.

Business much better within the past few months, is expected to reach a high water mark inside the next few weeks.

Farmers Buying More Freely

Farmers are buying much more than they did last year at this time, several of the prominent business men declared agricultural conditions are good and the high price of corn has brightened the trade outlook in the Illinois corn belt.

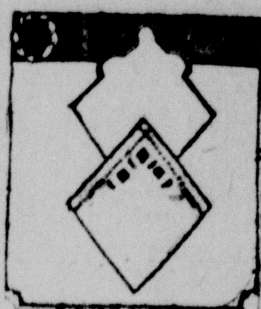

Other business is also prospering and all the signs point to record breaking sales. For those who wish stores with varied line from which to select will find the next few weeks best suited to their purpose.

The largest submarine power cable in existence is in Japan. It is twenty-three miles long and weighs six tons a record number of visitors for that a 1000 feet.

America's Favorite Songs

America the Beautiful

"America the Beautiful" is an apt illustration of the survival of the fittest, which sometimes prevails among melodies as well as among humans. The stirring poem of Katharine Lee Bates originally was issued with several settings. Their fate, however, which by its constant use approved of a version of the song in which the music had not been written to fit the poem. It was the hymn tune "Materna," written by Samuel A. Ward.

"High" Inspiration.

The poem was inspired in Miss Bates, who is professor of English at Wellesley College, by her first trip to the summit of Pike's Peak in the summer of 1893. It was the beautiful view of "spacious skies" and "purple mountain majesties" that inspired the first stanza of the poem. The verse attracted an unexpected amount of attention and was almost immediately set to music by one of America's pioneer composers, Silas G. Pratt. Other tunes were written for the words and so many requests came to the author to permit its use in various publications that in 1904 she rewrote it, making the phraseology more simple and direct.

This patriotic hymn has gone around the world. Australian Christian Endeavors have adopted it, changing "America" to "Australia."

What is your favorite American song? Send your choice to Kenneth

S. Clark, Community Service, 315 Fourth avenue, New York, as part of a nation-wide vote.

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain.
America! America!
God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

O beautiful for pilgrim feet
Whose stern impassioned stress
A thoroughfare for freedom beat
Across the wilderness.
America! America!
God mend thine every flaw,
Confirm thy soul in self-control,
Thy liberty in law.

O beautiful for heroes proved
In liberating strife,
Who more than self their country loved,
And mercy more than life.
America! America!
May God thy gold refine
Till all success be nobleness
And every gain divine.

O beautiful for patriot dream
That sees beyond the years
Thine alabaster cities gleam Undimmed by human tears.
America! America!
God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

DON'T BE A WALL FLOWER

No. 5—Ballroom Conduct

BRUSH UP ON YOUR DANCING

BY ARTHUR MURRAY

Director National Institute of Social Dancing

There are many reasons why some girls, who are good dancers, will unfortunately hide part of the wall at a dance. Let me relate a faux pas which a young friend of mine made. She is a young girl, very sweet but extremely impulsive. She accepted an invitation to a dance from a young man, and the next day when she was invited to the same dance by another youth, whom she favored more, she broke the first engagement.

The rejected youth naturally was resentful and told all of his friends at the dance about the incident. The girl was very much a wall flower that evening because the other boys were afraid to ask her for a dance for fear of a similar slight.

Here's a Moral

Moral: Be considerate of the boys—they are just as gossipy as girls. Here are some tips which will help to nip the wall-flower tendency in the bud:

1. Be prepared to fill in that awkward pause just after a dance. The memory of many an otherwise delightful dance has been marred by an awkward silence which neither partner was able to fill. Say something pleasant which will make your partner feel that you have enjoyed the dance.

2. Don't hang on to your partner. Be ready at any moment to let him go and he will be equally ready to return.

Don't Lead 'Em!

3. Remember that the man is the leader. The first place in the garden by the wall goes to the girl who follows.

lists on leading her partner. This is sometimes well meant, as in the instance of the girl who feels that she is a better dancer than her partner and wishes to be genuinely helpful. Invariably this help is unappreciated.

4. Do not criticize your partner's dancing.

5. Now I must repeat the old saw about wearing a social face. That's what Mr. Harry Atkinson calls it. When you are at a dance, put aside your business face and be your best self.

Smile, Smile!

Put on the face that is wreathed in one big smile. If someone steps on your toe, grin your teeth and grin. Don't show your temper.

6. Be considerate of the unpopular boys. Do not snub or slight them.

1. Don't wait for your partner to lead you forcibly. It is up to the girl to follow and follow well. She must dance as though she really enjoys it. A girl often will act lifelessly when dancing with a person in whom she is not particularly interested. She forgets that each poor impression brings advertising of an unfavorable kind.

Don't be Timid

Be modest, but don't let your modesty take the form of timidity. The girl who meets a young man and dances with him should not hesitate to extend a cordial greeting when she meets him later on.

Upon meeting, it is the girl's part to be the first to speak. Only too often friendships are broken very abruptly because one waits for the other to speak.

Mr. Murray explains "Limbering Up" exercises in his next article.

Alton May Operate C., P. & St. L. Road

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 20.—The Chicago & Alton will likely be called upon to operate the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis road for a period of two years. The latest plan advanced to keep the latter road in operation, is to place it under the control of a stronger line and then reimburse the latter for any deficit that might develop. Due to the fact that the road was grouped with the C. & A. during the World War when the roads were operated by the government it is taken for granted that if this new affiliation plan is decided upon, that the Alton is the company to play the role of guardian. It is expected to plan this work out, and residents along the C. P. & St. L. will be called upon to guarantee the Chicago & Alton against any loss.

HEALTHGRAMS

A federal commission, appointed to investigate the whole field of education in the U. S., set down "health" as one of the seven cardinal objectives of education. Judged by the size of appropriation for public health service one is forced to conclude that the education didn't "stay put" in a lot of communities, says the state health commissioner.

According to the report of a New York ventilating committee good air is cool air, not over 65 degrees F. It is moist air with at least 50 percent relative humidity; it is air in motion free from dust, bacteria and odors. The chief problems of ventilation are maintaining at a normal level the body temperature; the elimination of dust as the vehicle of bacteria and the keeping of indoor humidity somewhere near the outdoor humidity.
